Is there Proof that he is doing this?

Your ToS claims they can't leak/resell your method. It does not claim that customers aren't allowed to resell codes.

If me reselling the codes is an issue, change your tos as I am not leaking the method and have only sold a couple codes.

User claims he has codes for sale which he bought from Druze. Druze is not, according to your ToS, prohibited from reselling codes that he acquires from your method so long as he does not leak or resell the method itself.

The method explain how to get the codes, and he sold in the topic the method in how to get the codes. That is practically my method! Look the second topic

Okay, then i don't want that you resell the codes as you are potentially stealing my sales. I Will change the tos.
