Thread: Can we talk about vault 7 and its contents

DoubleClickBTC - March 9, 2017, 12:00 pm

I'm sure everyone and their grandma knows about what's currently going on. My question is are we allowed to discuss and upload sources from the vault for educational and research purposes.

IE ciav7p1/cms/page_3375231 contains a Elevated COM Object UAC Bypass for windows 7 along with the source, could we share it and compare it to the other UAC bypasses floating around HF.

I don't see why not? I don't believe this would violate any rules in the Help Docs. Just don't post links to infected files. Sharing sources should be fine.

I think it is allowed, because we have a whole section for that kind of stuff.

I cannot see why this would be against the rules whatsoever, it's a public document now.
