Very glad you are enjoying it.

We wrote the most powerful kit for good reason ? ?

It really is best on market.
We will host giveaway for 1 week free use to promote.

Beps = Nebula.

NEPTUNE IS NOT BEPS.
BEPS AND NEBULA IS SAME.
WE HAVE PROOF SAME BEPS IS SAME AS NEBULA.

NEPTUNE IS BRAND NEW.

Sorry sir, you are mistaken:

JuicyProgramming - March 10, 2017, 11:17 am

Would love to join the giveaway. Done alot of research on traffic etc in the past and I feel like I am ready for an EK. If the week is not available I guess I just wait till I have enough budget to order the EK. Looks like a nice product you got here.

Invictum - March 10, 2017, 12:38 pm

just finished speaking with the developers, they seem to know what they're talking about since they lost me with technical stuff really quick ahaha

Seems like a very serious product!
GLWS.

Valeant - March 10, 2017, 12:52 pm

I've been talking with OP on jabber for awhile, he's a really cool dude. Good luck with this!

Therm?!l - March 10, 2017, 1:13 pm

This looks really promising, looking forward to joining the giveaway

Can't wait to do it.

idalistrades - March 10, 2017, 4:16 pm

This looks very nice, good luck!

NerOsYS - March 10, 2017, 11:17 pm

This looks awesome, good luck!

Codefuser - March 10, 2017, 11:20 pm

Vouch for OP, I have seen this kit and it is excellent.

Your flash and Java exploit work silently on any browsers?

Or do you have Pentesting trick which can launch IE/FF/Opera if user is running exploit in another browser other than this Browsers? E.g if user open email in chromium

I suppose ask this in PM but there might other users who might want to know so it's better it is said ones so others may have answers.

Flash and Java works silently on all browsers. Firefox + Opera have there own exploit landing page and IE has its own exploit landing page.

Chrome however is served no landing.

Buyer beware

This user has created his account solely for his sale of his (in my opinion) overpriced exploit kit. Most likely a scammer

-He created his account with the initial name of NeptuneExploit. Most new member would make their name something like "John2004". Which means he knew that Hackforums was a market-style forum for "hackers". He only created the hackforums account for selling this product, which raises the question: "how did he know this was market forum where products could be sold?".

HE CAME HERE KNOWING WHAT HACKFORUMS WAS AND WHAT HE WAS DOING HERE

-Joined 3 days ago as of 3/11/17

-9 Posts

-Already upgraded: He immediately upgraded, which is strange because is means he is already comfortable with theses forums, knows his way around, and buys I33t without even knowing if these forums are good or not.

-He already has a sales thread DESIGN created. To me, this is telltale sign of a previous HF user, as sales thread DESIGNS are unique to HF. This means he realllly knows his way around these forums.

----Why this is all bad: He is using a THROWAWAY account selling a possibly BROKEN PRODUCT. He has NO SKIN IN THE GAME (no friends on the forum, total of 9 posts, not an old account) which means he is content on getting this account banned since he has nothing to loose

You know there are other forums where people sell this type of shit? All of this stuff you are stating is heresay and in my eyes doesn't give away "telltale" signs. Obviously users should beware when dealing with a new user(or any user) but these things don't make him a multi scammer ?

c-_m, tell me that you really don't think this user is a multi.

The dangerous thing is, not that he is a multi, but the dangerous thing is the fact that he is using a throwaway account.

I was right about Audia, I think I am right about this user too.

Reported for sales trashing.

Hmm, you already know the "Report" button exists, and you know the HF term: "salestrashing" already!
The word "salestrashing" is a unique meme of HF.
How do you know that term already?

Lol and how is it not relevant to warn unknowing users that they're about to buy a mad sketch exploit kit for the cost of a monthly paycheck?

CodeineCrazy? - March 11, 2017, 4:08 pm can you add me on skype for that 1 day test I added u

I wouldn't be so quick to judge, I can confirm this product is 100% working and I've talked to one of the Dev's before he knows what he's doing. GLWS OP! :)

His sole purpose on this forum is clearly to sell this product so his name is irrelevant he's not here for social learning.

His name wasn't the only sign of him being a multi, he knows unique HF things and terms like how to make a thread design, and the term "salestrashing". He is already comfortable with these forums as much to upgrade to I33t.

Do you deny that he is using a multi throwaway account?

Or people who have developed the EK have accounts on HF and know how the site functions so can guide the seller here on everything.
