Yea that is when cars were made with love and pride, when they were built to last.

Look at many of the 40s and 50s vehicles put them side by side a modern equivalent the beauty the love and the pride will not be there on the modern one.

You can still find many 40s and 50s vehicles on the road til this day running original, I guarantee 60 years from now you wont see a modern vehicle running original.

Yea I been working on cars since age 6, not the smartest but I know my fair share.

There is a guy about 3 miles up the road who has multiple 57 Bel Airs and a few 55's most all original he may be willing to sell one and if he does I am going to try my hardest to get it thing is Bel Air's in good condition can go upwards of $25,000+ here.

Apocryphon - March 11, 2017, 11:08 am

Yeah, you must know a fair bit. If the guy does decide to sell one I wish you the best of luck at getting it because it deserves to go to someone who cars about cars as much as you.

A yellow 2017 Lamborghini Aventador, no doubt about it. Been in love with lambos since I was a child.

Currently drive a Jaguar XKR 2007 right now which I am pretty happy with atm though.

Mr.Peanut - March 11, 2017, 1:36 pm

Any car? Like any any any?? A McLaren F1 GTR (there's like 2 in the world, well over $30 mill for the GTR version). On a slightly more realistic note, maybe a Pagani Zonda R. (or some other hyper car). Then in the Super Car class (slightly more realistic), I'd want an Aventador SV. Slightly more realistic - the new Lamborghini Huracan (the new model that just came out). Then a GT3 RS or something in that price range.

I mean there's so many car classes lmao.

under $100,000 - c63 AMG or a GWagon

Yeah, I like The Pagani Zonda R. Unbelievably fast, for super cars not a fan of the Aventador SV but thats my opinion. Under 100k, C63 OMG such a nice car man.

You got a great choice in cars hope you get the car you want bro.

I've been looking at that V-12 Maserati MC12, Oh my god. Talk about beauty and the beast. My dream car <3.

v6Prototype - March 13, 2017, 8:56 pm

Aston Martin DB9- for looks and sound, one day accomplishable
Lykan- for looks and speed
Supra- Something i could realistically own and build to make high numbers

Kicking - March 17, 2017, 6:52 pm

2017 Dodge 3500 Cummins dually limited edition.

webdev77 - March 17, 2017, 7:00 pm

This is always a tough question. Realistically, probably a BMW M3 or maybe Lexus LC 500 but I've never driven the new Lexus.

Corruption - March 17, 2017, 7:07 pm

Skyline R34

Or 2017 G Wagon

hfaccount - March 17, 2017, 9:25 pm

A car I'd love to collect: Black 1932 Ford Model B

Classic gangster style car. Same one Bonnie and Clyde got shot & died in (1934)

I can't post images since I don't have 50 posts yet, but Google it if you'd like.

SawCyanic - March 17, 2017, 9:29 pm

I'd get a 1983 Dodge Rampage just cus'.

theChive - March 17, 2017, 9:32 pm

Not to be cliché, but ANY car...a Bugatti Chiron

Edit: Just thought of it: Hennessey Venom GT
