Can an admin please PM me?

It's very important, it's about my first account

You are better of using the contact page. Include detailed info such as email and IP. Good luck.

Sent out the message, do you know how long it takes generally for them to respond?

It can take however long time. Nobody can tell.

Good luck.

First time I've heard someone asking an admin to PM them when they've lost their account. Use the Contact Form and wait it out.

Post what your issue is, an admin doesn't have to PM you if you ask, they all can't help you depending on your issue.
