You could spend it on an upgrade or tools here, if thats your thing. (DONT BUY EBOOKS!)

Or you could save it for something better.

Games, books, pc accessories, hobbies, puzzles, food. Not much you can do with that haha.

If you're looking for some quick fun, try out some low-cost investments in the stock market or cryptocurrencies. If you want something more tangible check this out and maybe you'll find something you like: <https://www.thisiswhyimbroke.com/>

Exchange it for Doge coin as it's been going up lately and you could make some nice profit.

Really depends on what you're into. You can spend it on some crypto currency as suggested before me. You can buy some videogames. You can also spend it on drinks or something for the weekend. You can also just put it into something you're interested in getting into such as pokemon cards, magic gathering, some car upgrades, or just on gambling.

And of course you can just save it up and spend it on something really big when you get more money.

Either way, have fun with the $. Don't lose...eh spend it all at once ;)

For example here in my city they have bitcoin atms but you can only buy you can't cash out that just doesn't make sense to me.. Anyways thanks for the suggestion I'll check it outI made a mistake, not dodge coin but dash coin.
