What's your favorite filler arc in Naruto/Naruto Shippuden?

My favorite are definitely the ones that see him with the other tailed beasts, for example the Guren Arc or the 6 Tails Unleashed Arc.

None of them, they were all unbearable.

not exactly an arc, but I found the one when they tried to find out kakashi's real face really amusing.

they all suck and are hard to get through considering id like to just watch the main story lol

but if there was one that was ok to watch id have to say the one where the old man sneaks into thee leaf village and sets fake traps and everyone is in a panic when it was all harmless and he just wanted to have some fun before he died and troll them since his son died when the leaf was in war with whatever village he was from i forget original naruto btw

Naruto fillers are trash , especially that horrible arc after the pain invasion arc ... That shit made me quit naruto for a few months lol

The mini filler arcs during the 4th great ninja war didn't bother me at all

I actually really liked most of them, but the ones near the end of Shippuden when everyone has been captured by the plant is what made me stop watching. Still have to pick it back up.

Episode 26 original, because it only wastes 1 episode of my time.
