Does anybody think or know if this would work? Just messing around with it to see what I can do.

I doubt the harddrive size, or lack thereof, would allow you to do so, but I could be wrong. Interested to see what other members' think of this idea.

I know Linux can definitely be installed on Chromebooks but I'm not so sure about Windows. Try the following link, I'm not sure how accurate it is though.

At least 16 GB is required for both Windows 7 and 10.
