bandors - March 19, 2017, 4:31 pm

Selling my group for 4.75k

I'm going offline for a year, no need for the group anymore

BTC, western union (you pay fees) or wells fargo cash deposit

Omni will middle man

Y3LI0NZ - March 19, 2017, 4:32 pm

GLWS man, you will be missed as Owner Of Illuminati, have fun on your endeavours.

illuminati? - March 19, 2017, 4:33 pm

Last time I posted the thread and I got all these messages, oh bandors dont sell, sorry I didn't reply to your pms, then I try to do projects with them and people go afk...

I'll probably buy another group when I get back. I just don't want ~5k sitting around somewhere I can't access it.

Maybe I'll bring back Logic/Void next time :)

That is what your leaders are there for. They are the ones who are suppose to keep activity up while you are gone, and help manage the group.

Nevertheless, GLWS. The "Illuminati" name has been around for awhile.

@Kevin - March 19, 2017, 4:46 pm

I remember when I first registered on Hack Forums 2012, Illuminati was the first group that I would feast my eyes on.

I am tempted to buy the group, but sadly I don't think I would be able to do anything productive with it until I finish my own projects.

Good luck with sales Bandors, a really iconic group being sold.

Warm Regards
KING

Why would you trust this shitface whilst he literally scammed a groupmember (me) for $80 before? Only reason he refunded me was because the thread got a lot of attention and he was like a little kid since his reputation was going down a lot quicker.

That meant less money for him at the end (by scamming more people) so he refunded me.

Do not deal with this guy unless you're doing it through a middleman.

He does not give a fuck about others, he just wants money to enjoy his $1 meals.

Bandors I thought about what you said about the money I gave you for rebranding the group, if the group is sold you personally do not have to pay for the rebrand it's covered by the new owner through the exchange fees. So since you're not rebranding illuminati before it's sold I want my money back for the rebranding, you've been avoiding me for weeks now whenever I ask the question you just read it and don't reply enough is enough. Stop mugging me off talk to me so we can resolve this, if not I will open a dispute. Just for the record it's been about 3/4 months since I gave you the money for the rebrand and so far what's happened nothing you're selling the group without rebranding it or giving my money back. You have also broke our original agreement on my position but are trying to also avoid paying a penny out on that. But that's a compelly different matter and dispute to this one.

You have 24 hours from the time of this post to respond before I open a dispute (didn't want it to go this way but I'm not being made a mug of anymore)

I knew what he did was scammy and immoral but from what I could see he stuck to his TOS. He made stupid T.O.S such as mentioning his work publicly would void their contract thus meaning no refund. Which in turn would mean if you complained publicly about his work or made a deal dispute because he was taking too long since you agreed to his T.O.S it's technically not a scam, it's just immoral and wrong.

It doesn't matter if you agree to the TOS, it's a void contract as Peter said - it blatantly breaches consumer legal rights.

Everyone should stop calling Bandors broke and buy his group to prove your not broke.

He's obviously not taking anyone's lowball offers or he would've by now.

If you want a group it doesn't matter who owned it that means nothing after the rebrand.

But why did it happen in the first place?

What caused all those people to feel like theyve been scammed and their last resort was to open a scam report to get some attention and help to solve whatever their problems was.

Its clear to anyone that if you have 20+ scam reports, solved or unsolved, you have in some way or another fucked people up over and over...

If you want to buy a group, i would say it meant alot who you where to buy it off.. Wouldnt it?

I dunno how deals with groups go down, but i imagine you could easily scam people when making them go first for an example.. But i notice Bandors says he will use a mm... So not sure how he would scam a potential buyer actually.. or well, it depends on who the mm is i guess.

Just because its a group thats being sold doenst mean people shouldnt look into the person whos sellings past..

Groups are normally mm by Omni. For me I don't care who is selling the group.

People aren't calling him broke because they're not broke though. They're saying that from his scam reports.

NotoriousMoneyMaker - April 3, 2017, 6:46 am

I'm surprised this group hasn't been purchased yet. This could be for the better!

Well that would make it pretty secure i guess then..

And for the sake of a gorup, no neither do i care who could of owned it before.. But for the sake of the money side of someone taking over the group, the past of the seller always has to be brought up and checked..
