I'm living in poverty, I hate it.
That's all.

Money cannot buy happiness, look at rich people for example.

Find where you fall in the cycle and make a change to break the cycle.

ogRizah - March 19, 2017, 8:35 pm

Do your hardest to stay within and not let your surroundings hurt you deeply. Wake up and know you are blessed to have another day and just like that, in one random day your life can change and do a 360.. Wish you the best.

iExe - March 19, 2017, 8:44 pm

Poverty is in your mind.
Just try to work hard and sharp.

Yeah I agree with you "money also can't buy foods"?, I'm asking why I'm poor, not why I am not happy.

And at all thank you.

Thank you, I hope that this happens soon.

Because you do not give yourself the means, the money does not fall from the sky...
Keep working hard everyday, don't give up and you will have results for sure ;)

Wish you the best

Really you're poor ? I'm wondering why you are thinking such, unless have any disability. Don't waste a sec by despair thinking. Don't be upset with your current situation. Before thinking these, start doing something better.

Like they say, I'd rather cry in a Lamborghini with heated seats.

You cannot deny that being rich takes away most of life's struggles/worries.

People keep saying this, but if you were broke on the street you'd be miserable and if someone randomly gave you 1 million dollars you'd be happier than you were broke.
