Regular members can't view trust scans anymore..

Anyone know the reason behind this?

Not sure how I'm supposed to check for multi's now.

GewooE - March 24, 2017, 3:08 am

I don't like it either buy hey, it is not our forum we can't do much about it. There are multiple threads about it in the rules section too, so you might want to check these out.

It was supposed to be an uber and epic feature but they changed it and changed it back.

Explained like a pro

That is most likely a key reason, think about it. Upgraded member gets banned, the first thing hes going to do is make a new account. Without being able to view his trust scan, he cannot be too sure he has not linked the new account.

Either way, its Uber only now right? I dont mind upgrading to leet but applying for uber must take a while its a big hit especially when you're here to trade.

MrTheGhost - March 24, 2017, 3:16 am

I don't care i m just happy spending time around as a regular

Brill - March 24, 2017, 3:21 am

L33t's can't view it either. It's an ub3r and 3pic feature from what I read on the "Upgrades" tab.

Seems I'm not the only one mildly annoyed with this decision. As others said, is what it is, sucks but it's not our site.

vaiperboy - March 24, 2017, 3:39 am ep1c is only 15$, just buy it, also, detecting multis is not ur job

tyko - March 24, 2017, 3:40 am

Why can't I33t do it aren't we supposed to have all of the 3pic features?

I don't think so. If we did, the 3pic upgrade would be unneeded.

Two words for you bro omni is the king of it...

ready???

Its called a "money grab"

Use the search bar, set their name and deal disputes as the forum.

There you go

Rip I33t's

Kinda disappointed that we also lost access to the trust scan feature. but I guess if we did have access to it the epic upgrade would be pointless ?

No it does a lot more than that. Increases mailbox storage, lowers posting delays, search delays. It's actually quite useful

I wouldn't do that if I was you, Omni has revoked their access for a reason. Bypassing Omnis wishes will only end up with you getting banned or warned, or he'll be super savage and just demote you to l33t

Money- - March 24, 2017, 4:08 am

Yeah normal users can't check now. I always check mine since I have a Dynamic IP , just don't like the Red in my trust scan haha. Would assign Static IP soon but I don't know if my ISP would charge for it.

Ah yeah you're right. Lol. Didn't think about it like that. Nvm OP.

Sam Winchester - March 24, 2017, 4:13 am

Misuse of the feature is surely one of the reasons it was restricted.

Misuse in what way?

Data collecting without omnis consent?

Members used it as a tool to "bust" and "expose" multis. The amount of multi reports I've received based on information gathered solely from trust scan is immense.

Correct my friend.

Also, you can still find most (if not all) deal disputes if you actually use a search function and search for threads that have member's UID in the title. 99% of deal disputes have that, so it just took the "convenience". Also, that convenience could back-fire as regular members can't add to DD database so again being lazy to search can result in you being scammed even if you had trust scan feature.

Check reputation, search UID, check comments on sales thread. Those are always good ways to go.
