Thread: Have you typed an entire web address within the last three years?

mazyoona - March 26, 2017, 6:52 am

I have but I haven't memorised any links. I've only used this for situations in which hyperlink or clipboard weren't options and the website was important and specific.

Yeah lol, almost everyday. It's not a problem for me, as I like to type a lot.

I'm used to typing the first two letters of the website and slamming the enter button. It's fine if you have time on your hands, hehe.

Mostly I just google the page and pick it there.

Zexus99 - March 26, 2017, 7:48 am

Yes, I'm typing website URL sometime

Slash- - March 26, 2017, 7:49 am

I just type the first two letters, unless I cleared my history or am in incognito.

Of course if I have the site on my history I'll go there by writing only 2-3 letters, but as an example if I want to go reddit, I'll google reddit (by writing reddit only to address bar).

I have the website prediction on my browser disabled, so pretty much every day.

I'm guessing you're using a shared laptop/PC and don't want your mother/father/sister/brother to see you're watching anime porn. Okay, I get it. Thank you for getting involved in the discussion, regardless.

No, I simply don't want to see HBO come up when I'm trying to type in Hentaihaven.

Ger? - March 26, 2017, 8:20 am

Yeah I definitely have but not many times.

Ninja - March 26, 2017, 8:21 am

I always type the whole thing lol I guess I'm just used to it.

SagelsAPlant - March 26, 2017, 8:30 am

Yeah, even when the auto fill comes up I feel satisfied typing out the entire link.

I guess the only exception in my instance is pornhub.

sh4dow.gg - March 26, 2017, 9:05 am

No, always the first two letters

SIM-3247471 - March 26, 2017, 9:06 am

Yes when I have a link on my PC and I need to go there on my phone.

Mi2414 - March 26, 2017, 9:52 am

I do all the time, I have my history and stuff set to clear so my browser is always fresh.

concurrent_racer - March 29, 2017, 4:12 pm

Yup i do a lot there can be many reasons for that like-

U have separate systems without any common link, with avg. typing speed it saves time.

Auto suggestions are turned off

You make sticky notes of links.

Mom - March 29, 2017, 4:13 pm

Not a whole lot, but sites like this yes I do like to type the full address out, but sites that have longer addresses, meh, I rather not, I just wait for suggestions lol.
