Hey hey ?

Wrote about this guy couple of days ago in this Thread.

Vignesh52, mate, go through this forum, search for some newbie tutorials, basics of SQL Injection, the basics of website vulnerabilities, try to do something for yourself..

For now you only found two websites, did nothing by yourself, only gave links and asked to "hack this website", "find admin login", "what password for admin"... And did not even give out anything back. We gave you information, we informed you how to find them yourself. One fellow member gave you links with queries where it showed the password, other member unhashed a password for you that I hashed to challenge you just a bit... I'm not hating.. Please, use your brains.exe just a bit, learn something for yourself..

I can see that English isn't your first language and it's hard for you to put together basic sentences while asking us for "help" ? But please, try, try your best! It will be easier for us to understand what you actually want and how could we help you.

At least tell us the purpose you need these websites to be hacked/penetrated?

Cheers ?
