Thread: Gundam Unicorn Sequel Announced

Mafty Navue Erin - March 28, 2017, 12:30 pm

In June 2017 we're going to receive a sequel of Gundam Unicorn based on a light novel, set several months after the ending, called Mobile Suit Gundam: Twilight Axis.

PV

The main pilot also seems to be a 20-ish or 30-ish-year-old male, which is a good change of pace from the whole 'troubled young boy' pilot cliché.

Apparently the plot is supposed to be a more proper transition into Gundam F91. And if anyone remembers my last thread, there will be a sequel to F91 coming soon as well, Mobile Suit Crossbone Gundam.

Now I can get over IBO ending next week.

HYPE!!!!

Please no more unrealistic suits. I hated the design and OS of Unicorn gundam because "maybe if i cry and care about MUH FEELINS i can be OP as fuck"

I hear you but I think this one has more realistic designs. The ones seen in the PV are most likely all we're getting. The story only has enough content for 12-ish episodes.
