You're a bit late to the party, should've posted this a week before hand. Good luck.

What do you mean?

Are you already part of a team? ?

My mistake if there was an implication of that. I made my account a while ago, I am by no means a high level but I have 60+ mage and 44 prayer.

I am looking to do some basic tasks, and would even pay real life money if any experts here could assist me in doing so.

I don't think that's the appropriate location, I just need a team of good players to join.

I guess, but you did say you're willing to pay when you said that.

Good luck
