Thread: Divine Logger Error Download Problem

MICHAEL199 - March 29, 2017, 11:04 am

I bought Divine Logger after the confirmation of the purchase, got email from the seller but the download link reads "error contact the seller" i have contacted the seller 2 times consecutively but i couldn't get any response, i wrote to Crowley with the email they provided "divineloggerhelp@gmail.com, i received nothing, anyone experiencing this too

As you can see on the sticky thread, their sales thread was already locked and it seems like they stop the sales.

Just wait and hope for their replies. ?

Mate, you contacted me at 2am my time and then again not even a couple hours later my time. You emailed me for support when the thread says to add us on skype for support.

I check my emails while at work to see you had asked for help. I could only help you once I got home.

I have emailed you the download link and code.

There was an error with the autobuy which I have now fixed.
Sorry bro! My fault but next time add us on skype for support!

Regards,
Peter

Sales are still going but crowley is no longer selling on my behalf. He is holding until sticky expires.
