Thank you for doing this!

I haven't done adult CPA before so I guess my question would be:

What is a good starting point and how long does it usually take to see good earnings?

RBH - March 30, 2017, 9:32 am

Well to hit it off,

I am running a network of IG accounts at the moment for growing and I am considering as using them all as a sort of private engagement network.

Do you think this will work even if the niches aren't always a good fit?

Alex Belarto - March 30, 2017, 2:40 pm

Hey dude, thank you for doing this, for real.

My question is.. how do I go about using fb ads for my CPI yt video? Plus is there any ads networks you recommend me to use them to drive traffic to my video?

you're welcome,

Going into cpa with the mindset of how much will i make and how fast will i make it isnt the way to go imo, you need to expect you will fail a lot and thats part of the game here, fail fast, learn fast.

As for where to begin in adult cpa you have 2 main routes, either you go down media buying within the adult space, this includes banners advertising on pornsites and popups but requires a budget of at least $3-5k to be able to buy any real data

The 2nd and lets face it better option for you is free traffic, mainly spam and targeted spam. Promoting smaller payout offers such as PPL which stands for pay per lead essentially you are making money each time you send the website a lead, e.g a signup usually a free join, these offers are solid for new people because they are easy to convert and when you see a few leads on your dashboard you will get a boost of motivation which really helps you to carry on now, how can you promote dating and cam offers, well firstly you should join a network, crack revenue is a classic for beginners, ask your manager for the top offers for PPL or SOI and he/she will send you some to try, then obviously you need to send traffic to them, because these offers are adult they wont work on a lot of the main social platforms like instagram and facebook, using the urls will lead to a ban and their domains will probably be blocked on bit.ly [WARNING: potentially infected] and goo.gl trackers so thats a no go too, i would suggest buying a cheap hosting and a bunch of cheap .site domains for cheap, then you can make .php redirects and shorten the .site domains on bit.lys and goo.gl for spam on social medais, if you have a higher budget you could buy .coms and url redirect which will make it look better for the user when he clicks the domain as for where to spam these links, some places to try are, twitter, tumbr, facebook pm (if you can bypass their constant changing algorithm and blocks), snapchat, youtube, mobile hookup dating apps, mobile dating sites, web based dating sites, web based adult sites, chat rooms and smaller social media mobile apps which have low spam restrictions, don't underestimate mobile apps that are not in the top 100, there are still huge volumes of traffic on some of these more hidden apps for example whisper used to kill it for me with adult spam

cheers

Hey RBH good to see you again,

This is a pretty cool idea, how many accounts were you thinking of having within the network and average followers per accounts, if you continue doing what you're doing your accounts will be solid within a month or two and could be used as leverage, as for the niches/types of accounts it isn't a massive deal, obviously having 100 car accounts would be good for car engagement but harder to sell as everyone doesn't do cars right, but as long as the general demographic of the users is similar and popular I think it is definitely would a try, demographics meaning the age and location is similar and the interests are somewhat linked, such as, comedy, celeb, quotes/goals, memes, photography, relationship shit, all would have similar teen American demographic

you're welcome,

what sort of niche are you doing, anything too 'blackhat' i would avoid using your fb ad account for, generally this is niches that don't actually give the user any value, for example, a game hack, the user will download an app and then get nothing, leaving them with a bad experience and then reporting your ad which will lead to you being banned, getting your fb ad account banned isnt worth it imo over some ogads or something, its a powerful platform and the best advertising options in history, id keep your account for whitehat only if possible if not then why would you be using youtube and fb ads together?

You should upload the video directly through facebook either on your page or on your ads platform as a dark post, from there you can configure some settings and demographics that may work maybe you can give me some more info so i can help you better on this thread?

Quote:Plus is there any ads networks you recommend me to use them to drive traffic to my video?

Do you mean buying traffic e.g views to your video to boost it?

Saturation doesnt necessarily mean dead, usually means there is a lot of competition so its harder but there is a lot of profit being made by some people

I heard recently from a friend he was doing $400 a day with clash of clans on ig, usually id think wtf that niche is saturated but these mobile games have millions of players, you only need a tiny slice of that traffic and you're balling in this game, as the user said above, yes you can hire coders but it can become costly and by the sounds of things you would get bumped, id suggest doing what other affiliates do, rip and edit!

Steal other peoples landing pages and edit them, improve them, make various versions of them but changing the text and images on each and split testing the various versions of your new improved landing pages

Hi Rod, I try to promote game hacks on facebook groups with ogads content locker. I have 10 old accounts and i'm joined in 40-50 groups. I promote niche such as 8ballpool, fifa17 coins, mobile legends, farmville etc.. and i use massplanner for automation. My problem is that i make very few conversions because I do not send enough traffic. I am removed from large groups, I post 10-15/day , some of my accounts was allready banned and i dont know what to do. What niches to choose?

Before I started this method i tried to post manually on groups without delay and i had good results when i post instantly on 15 groups.. around 3$ per an account just by posting in 15 groups. I dont know what to do now. Please help me.

Were you cloaking?

Were you direct linking or using a landing page?

Facebook is pretty smart, you gotta be careful its easy to get locked if you do too many actions at once especially if you only do a certain thing like join groups and post, normal people don't do that

I think promoting low paying offers like these on fb isnt worth it as its costly and time consuming, what other experience do you have using other traffic sources?

Just some advice and questions, so users can better assist you.

1) Are you using any automation tools or are you doing it manually?

^ If you are doing it manually, I suggest you start using automation tools

^ If you are already using automation tools, nice one you are one step ahead Automation is another whole category it's self especially with IG there are many factors you need to take into consideration and learn about, to prevent your accounts getting banned. I recommend you joining SM Marketing forums such as MP Social

2) Have you tested your landing pages?

(*This simply means testing different landing pages, for the same offer and seeing which ones get the most conversions)

^ If you are not doing this then I suggest doing so if you want to increase your CR

3) What niche to pick?

(*No one is going to give you there Niche if it's performing, if you actually read the whole thread you would have seen that, Rod$ shared with us that his friend is making $400 a day with Clash Of Clans (A Saturated Niche)

^ What does this tell us?

You can simply just copy hot saturated niches and still make good money, or use your brain and think of something that people want and are passionate about, for e.g (Sports Tickets, Movie Tickets) list goes on

4) Once you are making money from your IG accounts and Niche, don't be scared to reinvest all that money into new accounts etc.

Tips On Automation

If you are using automation tools, look at accounts sources and follow back ratios and optimize to increase your follow back rate and more importantly your CR

Since you are not investing any money into growing your page you need to look into organic marketing methods for your facebook page, I have listed some ways down below, and at the bottom some advice :)

- Post in groups related to your niche, join several groups daily and post quality content in them.
- You can add the people in the groups what are related to your niche and chat to them. (Makes them feel special will increase the chance of them looking at your page/liking)
- When you have someone added as a friend you can invite them to your page, so let's suppose your niche is "DogLovers" join dog lover groups message/chat to them add them and then you can also invite them to your group.

Remember if your niche is rubbish it will be difficult to grow a big page, and more importantly, Content + Value is king.

If you would like more methods on how to grow your page organically I recommend you check out, this SM Marketing Forum.

Free tweet automation is not the best, you need a real automation tool, i.e MassPlanner, and you need to run it on a VPS 24/7 to get the full value. (Free VPS On Amazon)

You said you got a high click rate, but low CR, there are many factors what need to be taken into consideration here.

- Your landing page may not be the best (^ You need to split test them)

- Your traffic may not be the best, let's suppose you're in the adult niche and your traffic is from Musically Fans (Kids) it's not the best aka not targetted traffic.

Twitter along with most social media platforms do not like adult content on their platform and will ban your account if it's too explicit, however, this is not to say that you cannot do it.

I have not heard of anyone doing Adult + Twitter, however, I know a few people who are doing it with IG and are doing well.

The fitness industry is always good, large scale and you can promote different cpa products such as stamina type pills.

You would need to build up a blog or something to gather people into one place, drop a lot of value so you start building up a following.

You need to pick a traffic source and start building something up you like, maybe Instagram?

Is everything working fine on landing page?
Maybe locker page instructions are poor

Maybe niche is shit

Have you split test different variations of the landing page and locker page to see if there is a difference?

Seems to be a huge amount of bot clicks on twitter with general hashtag spam so maybe thats why you get these clicks, if you put on goo.gl you will see lots of X11 firefox clicks which is all bots

Certainly people promote adult offers on twitter, i see the images with links watermarked on, thats the easy part though, you need to find quality sources of hashtags.

I think you would be better off building up a twitter that is within an adult niche and then promoting the dating offer in the link in bio and in tweets to followers rather than just spamming hashtags

Thanks you

How long is a piece of string?

These questions are too open are irrelevant

With fb ads you have to be careful running cpa offers as facebook dont really like them and will ban you in time as often it can lead to a bad user experience

Id suggest keeping your account and using it for whitehat marketing such as shopify or using it to build pages which you will then use to promote cpa products

Such as promoting a meme for $5 and get a few k likes from it, and then have the content on your page so the people that like the meme from the ads click through to your fb page and click your offer meaning you are not directly promoting cpa on fb ads but on your fb page video ads are great for low cost advertising

usa is higher competition but much more scalable other countries lower competition and easier to start in but not so scalable you seem new so id start with a tier 2 country if possible otherwise you will be eaten alive out there i cant just drop niches left right and center what would be the point everyone would start doing it you gotta put in the work to find out yourself and test your ideas, why would i spend 1000s of dollars testing niches to give it all away on a hf thread? that would put me out of business instantly

as for tips
use aged accounts
use no more than 3 accounts per proxy warm up accounts be careful with how you do links in bio use weebly if you dont have experience with cloaking/masking buy sim cards if you can so you can recover phone verified accounts join and read mpsocial.com for a day straight and you will learn 100x more about instagram automation than anywhere on hf

Havent really done this much either but off the top of my head liking and commenting on related peoples post that you want to grow from

for example

you're growing a hot female stoner page

so you would comment and like on weed posts on facebook reply comment on the top comments on recent posts will have your page seen by a lot of people and some will ultimately click thru and like your page also facebook groups store a lot of traffic in most niches and you need to use other social medias to grow this one, traffic share between them all

The advertisers all have advanced analytics and when they see affiliate#69 leads are only joining the offer for free and never buying anything they will sooner or later see that the traffic is FRAUD and will not pay you, even if they do pay you before they notice you will get your blacklisted and in the cpa game reputation is everything

Don't do these free things niches with PPI

You will get banned and if they want they can contact ogads and find your name and stuff.

Hey !!!

So I tried CPA with Instagram. I requested my landing page and then I shortened the url.

The problem is that I can't find a free bot like massplanner or followliker. I tried instagress but it's free only for three days. Do you have any suggestions on how I can get a free bot and get to follow/like more people????

By the way instagram doesn't accept my bitly and google shortened urls and it is marking them as spam. Is anybody having the same trouble????

For now I'm just using ouo.press which is other service....

I'll be glad if you can help me out.

Mass planner offers a free 7-day trial, I don't think there are any good free bots, just make an investment it's not that much.

IG is not accepting your Bitly and Google short links as many spammers use them, you need to either purchase your own domain and hosting or you use a pre lander on Weebly with a button what redirects to your LP.

Their is a detailed tutorial on masking links on IG on mpsocial.com

What Niche is the account in?

Followers mean nothing unless your selling the account/SO's to noobies, its all about the Engagement Rate.

If you have a good account with a good ER don't ruin it and increase the risk of it getting banned for some crappy CPA offer.

Depending on the Niche of the account I would say look into Affiliate Marketing and SO's, I know you said you don't think people buy things just like that and you're correct, people usually purchase on their 7th time, so what you need to do is create a incentive, capture your followers emails (Build a List) and then start offering them products, first show them value, then offer them a related product.

You can find related products on affiliate networks such as Click Bank

Hi there. I read all of your last thread and want to thank you for the massive value!
I'm been working with CPA for 2 years and been doing blackhat, made some good money but I'm tired of doing that, now I really want to switch things up, going to try FB Ads for the first time so any tip would be appreciated.

Firstly, <https://www.facebook.com/359681277728836/videos/418017508561879/> - this got my attention, so I want to start doing something like this. Do you have any further advice and maybe a network that provides this kind of various mobile install offers?

Secondly, I also noticed you mentioned FB ads with shopify. Do you mean creating a dropshipping store and promoting it on facebook ? I would love some details about this.

Thanks.

Yeah so the next logical affiliate step business wise for you would be to start media buying with the profits you have made from your blackhat activities.

With fb ads you will need to be careful, account bans are swift and ruthless. This could mean your whole business could collapse overnight.

For shopify and fb ads yes its been very popular recently, but as always i wouldn't just jump into it because you hear something profitable, people do this everyday because they see i earn with adult, they think adult is this monster profitable machine that they can just join and earn. WRONG! Everythings profitable online, you just have to have actual skills within that niche/scene/vertical/area

If you're looking to get into mobile games you can buy mobile display traffic, essentially advertising within other mobile games or via popup ads, websites like zeropark.com or airpush

I just thought of this... So with Facebook Ads, you have "Audience Network" as a placement. Basically, what is it, it is when people play games on their phones, for example, and get a random ad that pops up and they click on it.

It's LQ clicks(unless this is what you are trying to promote(90% of the time no one uses it)) but is possible to promote a CPA offer that basically makes you money from clicks only? Audience Networks get A LOT of random clicks which gets you a low CPC.

If yes, do they pay well and what are they?

I'm using adludum network and my niche is free gift cards. I've got my landing page ready, but I can't get some traffic. I've created 2 Instagram accounts but they target mostly Egypt , so they won't work with adludum. I also thaught about YouTube videos but I don't know how to record a video that actually looks legit helvetica - May 16, 2017, 1:55 am

Thanks for your time to answer all of these questions.

I've been working with CPA for a while but I just can NOT find any type of traffic without spending a good amount of money on ads and having negative ROI with accounts, bots, and time. How can I find traffic beside buying ads and spread to my target potentials within my niche category? I have a perfect landing page with working javascript and locking but gets 10 clicks every 1000 view, my niche is broad and not very saturated.

Also, I am maxing out every action limits on my 4-year-old IG page with 45K followers and am only gaining 30/40 followers and getting 200/300 likes each post, what am I doing wrong? My uploads are consistent and they're superb quality. All my tasks have interacted with users following similar niche pages. I am very familiar with forums such as MP Social and know all the limits of botting but I just cannot convert. Really need some advice on what do I need to do, thanks.

Edit; MassPlanner is now gone, hopefully there will be an alternative good as it was..

1. Can you specify what type of information is asked for when someone goes to a certain link? For example give only email vs full information.
2. If the above answers yes then does the payout differ?
3. Can we get it so when someone does an action like download (if I'm understanding this correctly) can they somehow get a random number or something so I can confirm on my end they completed the download?

You gotta test! thats how you find one so 3 niches, 3 videos, 3 landers, rank 3 videos

now keep sending traffic to them until u find out which one is getting most engagement and leads!
then you start scaling that video by increasing the ranking methods such as sending more views, you shouldnt be downloading the file to test if it works, if your landing page redirects the user to the correct survey or whatever then it will work, i assume you just have had 0 leads so you are looking for someone else to blame? there is other aspects to it such as geos devices and even pixel

(May 29, 2017 12:43 PM)grisly Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Could fb weight loss ads work in your opinion?

They work however fb will ban you if you make any false promises. For example saying "This method makes you lose 10kg in a week" is not allowed however saying "I lost 10 kg with this method in a week!" is allowed. Watch out for this!

A lot of people are also trying this so you better have a good landing page and the budget to test which creatives work.

AM is a hustle and you're working for somebody else to get sales or conversions so you aren't really building up something stable because the method will most likely die and you have to move onto the next one. But dropshipping? That's entrepreneurship because you're the working for yourself and nobody else.

twitter has lots of porn, you will defo need automation tools to spread your links and have pre landing pages (the funnel) 300m visits a month tumblr you could look into lots of porn there altho iv barley done it so cant comment much redit is good source of traffic over 100m visits a month and lots of porn, converting might be hard unless you have a sneaky way in snapchat, great for building views and promoting dating offers on stories, pick one and look into it :)

I have been lurking the CPA section for a couple of days now and this is very interesting.

How should a beginner start? I read about proxies and so on. Is there a tutorial where I can find more specific guide?

Like do I buy vps, proxies, accounts or maybe how do I cashout. To my own paypal and so on :P what budget should I start with?

The level you're at I think simply you need to go to youtube and start searching 'what is cpa marketing' spend a few hours watching videos, you seem to be very early on in this game you need to start right at the basics before attempting stuff, you need to know what is a cpa network, how they operate, how offers operate and so forth google and youtube is good for baseline information

Alright so maybe you make 20 bucks, since you're new you'll probably get net 30 so it'll be 60 days before you even get that 20 bucks, plus most cpa networks won't pay you out 20$...

I give practical advice edit; you're not shit at ewhoring you just give up after you try for a day and don't make money, making money online is far from easy, do skype VCW cam shows from reddit traffic you'll make $20 from 2x $10 cam shows soon enough if you PUT THE FUCKING EFFORT IN

Facebook ads is the best traffic network ever created targeting and volume wise, although they can be strict so only run whitehat stuff such as shopify, running cpa offers requires cloaking basically a way to hide the thing you are promoting so people at facebook dont see it but eventaully they will catch on and ban you, getting back ad accounts on facebook after they ban you can be tricky and tedious

Hey mate

SO depending on which country you're in generally if you make over 10kish net profit a year you would need to register with your government for tax, usually as a sole trader/self employed person

Tax bands work on how much net profit you earn for example

10k-19k profit/year = 20% tax

20-29k = 30%

30-40k= 40%

70k+ = 50%

rough idea

but as i said depends on country, just google your country name and tax bands after it

hope this helps

No getting on top hashtags is how to grow your page. Use viral tags and go for top posts. Buy auto likes 250-300 likes per post and some comments and what not and youll get 150++ actives a day, thats what I do.

if you need motivation for a better life then you need to rethink your plan you need to find which section of cpa interests you the most, if you go into cpa just looking for money you will probably loose categories

health gaming adult adult insurance

define which one you want to focus on then join a cpa network peerfly //crakrevenue for adult

ask your affiliate manager for the best offers start defining where you will get traffic from and how you will hold it will you do it on a blog or a social media or just direct spamming people inform me

dont go for click baits and traffic, i can buy 100k's worth of hits for almost nothing but would of any of them convert? probably not trust me you want quality over quantity in cpa doesnt matter if you have traffic, nice landing pages, nice banners, high quality hosting, amazing coders, if the people do not convert on the OFFER then nothing matters aim for quality always

Do you have any advice on media buying within the adult niche? How would it turn out if I were to try and replicate successful (assuming they are) campaigns from sites such as PH.com.

E.g. If I were to use Traffic Junky + pre landers + Crak Offers. What sort of difficulties do you expect I'd come across? It seems a bit too easy to be true, or am I mistaken.

I'm only thinking this because it seems that the targeting isn't as wide and detailed in the adult niche ad networks such as TrafficJunky...

Adult media buying is a serious game I have burned around $5k just teaching myself the game as no one fucking helps you with it you would need a testing budget of at least $3k to get your foot in the door imo as for trying to replicate someone else's work it's not as easy as it seems for some reasons:

the person has cash flow which means they can outbid you and afford to only do 10% ROI off 100k spent when you need to do 100% ROI off $2k spent..

another reason is the person has a higher pay on the same offer, some CPA offers may pay you $5 for a lead but $15-20 for someone else that sends volume to the offer so straight away they can outbid you and take the traffic from you

Traffic Junky is a CPM only network which means you pay per 1000 impressions whether you get 1 click or 500 clicks

you need to join a network where you can pay cpc, pay per click so you dont get rinsed of all your money instantly something like exoclick.com or reporo.com trust me its far from easy, been doing adult cpa full time 2+ years and media buying 6+ months and i still find it hard but i get closer everyday

Never tried it but PPC is very big in 2016 and into 2017 5 figure days being done everyday with that shit insurance is one of the biggest ones, using adwords cuz you can promote your phone number on the ad on google cannot really help much on this though not my scene

There is no best adult cpa network, different adult networks specialise in different areas of the adult scene, if you have that amount of traffic which sounds like porn tube page views if anything then you're best bet at the start is to join exoclick and become a publisher so you add their ads to your website and get paid per click/impression it will be a good step in and then after you could try running your own banners going to your own cpa offers but that will take a bit more experience to execute imo

1: try work smart and make videos of higher quality than going for scale, target niches rather than general, why would a ebony video user convert to a milf offer? they wouldnt do u need to make sure everything fits in line with each other from start to convr

2: not sure what you mean by tier 2 company but you can try reporo.com if you want tier 2 adult traffic, have low budget

3: spam more, automate more, hire workers, get a partner, work more, i did 17 hour days, how many days do you scroll facebook and jerk off?

4: dont give up is the biggest one, do ewhoring its good to understand horny men, expect a long process and tedious at the beginning, target countries with less competition at the start if you can, dont rush everything, spy on other people doing what you're doing, copy and improve

Pretty much everything works on instagram because instagram has humans and humans do offers right??

you just need to pick a vertical and stick to it

vertical meaning

Lead gen, health offers, insurance, games, binary once you pick one of these categories or another you like then you can start spying on other people from instagram and start getting an idea of what people are doing to promote, maybe you'll need to setup a blog and start producing content and the health industry hyperlinking your health cpa offers throughout for your users from instagram to click and hopefully convert you need a plan not just asking dumb questions like "does instagram make money"

I always did the bank transfer option, lowish fees think its min $500

Friend for the cheque option once but said his bank charged him a high fee to cash it so id play it safe, depends on country too i guess

but setting yourself a higher payout means you will work harder, i always did best on networks that have $1k min payout cuz i know i have to hit that every week or whatever to cash it out

If you started on youtube dont move stick at youtube until you crack it, thats why noobs fail they try something for a few weeks and then times get tough (which is normal) and they move to a different traffic source

you need to do more broad testing, testing multiple niches at once to get a feel for what is working better and whats working bad something for free do some spying on youtube first and see what others are doing check recent trends, fidget spinners for example, free ones of them, rank the videos plus do another 2 other niches, free yeezys for example you know what i mean see whats trending in the youth society as that is most likely the people that will download a free app to verify they are not a robot

When it comes to adult cpa, I only know two methods.

1. reuploading the videos
2. hot instagram profiles --> snapchat adds

Since I'm starting adult cpa again, but this time long term, I want to focus on one of those two methods. I can do them both, but I don't know which one is better at the moment. Also, if you think I shouldn't waste my time and money in neither one, you can say that too.

And if you know any other methods apart from those two, I'd really appreciate it. Obviously, I'm not asking you for a niche, but just a general method of doing adult cpa.

Thanks.

Have you used snapchat to promote adult offers ever? I recently tried and made a new snap and got it to around 3k days on each story pic. Now I redirect the snapchat views via the new swipe up option directly to my offer link. I got a decent amount of clicks but the conversion rate is no good I think only 5 from a total of 1.2k clicks. Any suggestions on how to improve the conversion rate?

Also I used the crakrevenue smartlink thingy for adult offers, what's your opinion on that is it any good or should I try with specific offers?

FatherTenzin - July 18, 2017, 8:32 pm

hey rod im using yt but the views r really slowing me down cuz like the speed r ass but i know my niches will bank if i rank them. i keep spending $$$ on views but like they take like 3 days to strt. i know there was a major yt update, but i wanna know will it effect the ranking of my vid if it takes 3 days for views to strt or like a little longer rather then striaht away?!?!?

Not sure if he'll say the same, but have you tried making a landing page instead of sending them directly to your offer link? Correct me if I'm wrong, but you might want to try few landing pages and see where you get the best conversation rate.

What do you have the most experience in video editing or social media?

You need to focus on creating an engaged audience, anyone can make a snapchat and send a bunch of horny men to them, why would they go to your dodgy looking urls and do your dodgy looking offers when they probably know that some male is behind the fake account trying to make money off them

you need to be authentic and engage your audience before you start hitting them with spam and ads, this means you need to build a better story behind your female and make sure you're using the same pictures, also make sure the offer fits your narrative, using a smart link is hard to do this because there are so many offers in the combinations some could be going to dating, games, webcam etc etc its very random, target quality not quantity in adult for good results

Nothing happens quick in this world, you need to invest time and wait for the results, impatience has cost me thousands and i think this is your problem, you need to run proper tests and let them set for a good amount of time to collect significant data to make DATA DRIVEN DECISIONS not decisions based off a video getting you 1 lead, you wetting your pants and trying your hardest to scale it because you think it will make you BANK

I'm trying to get back into CPA again after doing it with minimal effort for a year where I only made ~$600, but I have some questions.

1. I'm currently with CPALead but I feel like there are better options, I've applied to OGads and been accepted, but I just wanna know what you think. Are incentivised offers the best way?
2. In my previous experience, I just had a few clicks a day with about 60/70% conversion as the traffic was only from one country, but I wanna utilise a niche this time around and I'm wondering which social media I should get started with, YouTube or Facebook (not really considering buying an IG account right now).
3. Do I have to invest (e.g. buying youtube views to get ranked or for facebook ads) to get started? As I would prefer to start earning and then reinvest my profits.
4. I've seen many different types like PPD, PPI, etc. but in your opinion what is the most profitable?

Thank you

1: stick with basic networks if you are new cpagrip/ogads peerfly etc also i dont know what you promote so cant say whether incent or non incent is best for you, i prefer non incent as the niches tend not to die after some time, incent is like a game hack

2: stick to one country for now, try tier 2 countries if you can cuz less competition, as for social medias do one you know well, youtube is hot at the moment but reality is if you're good enough all social medias work they are just platforms that hold humans

3: yes you need money to make money if not you will progress much slower in this game, youtube people do buy views likes comments etc need to be high quality to work well

4: all cpa is profitable, people make $10k a day with dick pills, free iphones, diet pills, skin care, gambling, mobile apps, games the list goes on and on, stick to PPI at the start as its easier to get conversions which will keep your motivation up long enough so you dont quit like 95% of people do after a week

Ok thank you I will try to use a specific offer now instead of the smart link. I heard a lot of people say slutroulette is a good offer from crakrev. I'll also try to set up my own landing page like a user above suggested. Currently my epc is 0.004$ so that's beyond terrible.

That epc is very shit!

Yeah pick one offer and one device for example

slut roulette Pay per lead, soi (single opt in) mobile USA UK AUS CA

Then you can target your traffic and create higher quality

i see you get lots of clicks but barley any leads clicks is the easy part but leads is not, you need to prepare your traffic, and give them a good reason to signup

so maybe your narrative is ur an amateur cam girl and ur online this slut roulette website or something although that wouldnt really fit the offer as its more of a roulette style cam site

but you get what i mean everything has to be in line with what you're promoting so the potential leads do not get confused half way thru

Hi Rod$, i've been doing some PPD on fileice in the past earned $700 in 3 months but then stopped.

I wanna come back in the game but i am currently stuck with no map from where to begin again.

Your thread helps a lot! I want to start CPA. I have few questions.

1. Where to buy IG accounts? Or maybe I have to create by myself?
2. Why do we need a VPS? For hosting landing page?
3. Maybe you have an example how landing page looks like?
4. CPAGrip or OGAds? And then I register to them do I have to lie about how much traffic I will get?

What sort of niches were you targeting with PPD? fileice is pretty outdated in my eyes but its a good step into PPI (pay per install) mobile apps basically its easy to convert them which keeps motivation high as you keep seeing leads coming in, let me know

Sellers on hf sell ig accounts!

VPS for hosting the pre landing page before the user goes to the offer page where they will complete the action required for you to be paid for that action example landing page can be found anywhere by searching for a niche free iphones is a classic here is one i did about $9k with on fb ads before getting banned lol

<http://3ditweak.com/>

basically a tweak to make ur iphone screen a hologram

try not to lie but you have to be motivated and show them you have a plan, you cant just register because you want to have a browse and think youll make a mill in the first week, you need to show that you have dedication and have a plan of attack! get things ready and show them if you're serious

I have one more maybe it's dumb question, but I have to ask.

If I buy IG account with random name and there are only posts with girls in pictures, can I post there like: "free iphone giveaway click this link....." or I have to post something about girls like: "watch these girls nude in Live cam and etc.." ?

Also once I have created IG account it was about spinners, I have reached about 1,5k followers in 2-3 weeks, by just following others and uploading pictures from GOOGLE(2-3 photos in a week). Account is banned. So I guess I was banned because I was uploading pictures from google?

Hey. I tried going into CPA a few times already, I made a couple videos on youtube with the saturated niches and they just got taken down. I would like to have a whitehat niche and I think I have one that's pretty okay but I had no traffic because I don't really know how to get it. I don't know what's the best place to buy youtube or other social media traffic. My primary concern isn't even conversions because I can't even get clicks. I think the websites I make are pretty okay design-wise but the video quality on youtube is quite bad, but i've seen worse videos than mine with way more views and such. So I'd really be thankful if you could help me earn my first $.

There are dozens of CPA methods for traffic out there

I wouldn't recommend using them but learn from them because they offer quite some insights

Then it's about putting A and B together from what you know and make money

CPA is about practise, learning and putting it to work

cpa stands for cost per action or cost per acquisition dating, adult webcams, adult games, adult dating all fall under adult cpa marketing

Hi rod, great thread

I'm thinking of getting in to this game by giving movie downloads (no scam they actually get the movie). I've read a good portion of this thread and think I have something of a plan.

- 1.get 10 Facebook accounts plus proxies
 2. Create a facebook group
 3. Create a couple short explainer videos to post on YouTube to like and hopefully get them relooked and direct them to the down load link
- Here the s were I see the possibility of a problem these will down load to a pc (I don't build apps for mobile or mac). People are so scared of viruses or other network intrusions that downloading a 8meg .exe may turn them off.
What are your thoughts?

What are your thoughts?

How many people do you think would complete a survey just to download a movie when they can just continue their google search to find a torrent for free?

This can only work if you're offering movies that aren't out yet or are barely out or they are so rare people can't find them anywhere else.

To succeed in CPA you need to offer people stuff they can't find anywhere else (at least not for free).

That's why black hat niches work best for CPA unfortunately...

Another road is promoting offers and not content lockers... which is a lot more legit.

snap and twitter for hardcore aggressive dating tumblr/Instagram for more discreet advertising for dating/ewhoring

facebook not even worth it

I've got $150 to invest as my first investment. I plan to invest more but I would like to know what the best investments are to do for YouTube comments/videos, for a website niche I have. I don't care if I make less than say $15 a day at first as I plan on scaling up. I want to do a lot of top comments on videos as a traffic source. I also plan on buying custom videos to rank etc.

I've read anything and everything about CPA (i do it as a hobby in my free time) and the one thing i never understood is people who are running 40 accounts at the same time, how the F* do ya'll update so many accounts so often? or is it you just put enough content on them to look real and then automate the likes/follows to draw attention to the bio when they curiously click on the profile after being liked/followed?

Hello

Can anyone Really help me !

My question is how PPD website make money apart from prenum service subscribers ?

i understand they pay you 50% of every prenum members referral you bring them but for the PPD i am really curious .

i mean they claim to pay you X amount of money every 1K downlaod but what are they earning to pay you ?

expecially thoses without any survey and any ads during the download like UPLOADED.NET

if my question is not CLEAR i give you an exemple :

for a file of 101 MB its 30 euros for 1000 download with UPLOADED.NET imagine that i have 10.000 downloads they Owe me 300 euros right .

if i do this every day for a month its around 9000 euros right

Where they get the money to pay me that my question ?

Thanks (sorry for my bad english)

PPD is kinda old school you should look into PPI pay per install

Also, leads can be removed without you knowing it happens every second in CPA, networks do it its called shaving leads its the one part of the process we don't control so that's why you need to have good relationships with the networks you send traffic too and have trust in place otherwise why wouldn't they shave 10% of your leads, no ones gonna find out

Thanks for the kind words

Yea running tons of IG accounts can become annoying fast, unless you have good aged accounts, a good sim service in place to verify your accounts when they get hit by sim only checkpoints and then you gotta worry about having a link in the bio and landing pages getting crawled by IG bots and scanned = mass linked and banned, a good way to think of doing it is to monetise via dm's or send traffic to another social media like snapchat and monetising via there, IG is tough as its owned by fb

ESK91 - June 13, 2018, 8:08 am thanks Rods for this fast answer what you think about Uploaded.net are they serious ? are they shaving leads ?

but i still dont understant how they can pay us for 1K download

Those website claim to pay X Amount of money every 1000 download Right !

my Question is are they making Profit on thoses 1000 download example if they pay 25$/1000 they should i least make 26$ of it like this that make sens even if its 1 dollars profite for theme you get me ?

hope question its clear thanks yes it still works and has so for the last 10+ years

it works with no investing if you want to do paid traffic (spam etc)

or you can invest anything from $1 a day to $100k a day on (paid traffic/advertising)

(Jun 17, 2018 12:19 PM)tripac Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) What do you think, is promoting product offers on facebook via ads safe ?
Yes and no

fb has become alot more stricter over the years and people have to cloak there cpa products in some cases (cloaking is hiding your offer from fb)

FB is best for whitehat products no dodgy cpa links, gambling, adult stuff like that, ecommerce is great for fb ads but fb ads are all round great way to target people, its the best ad platform that has ever existed in history and ads can be very cheap too

a budget is required like always when media buying so if you're new it may not be the best place to start, i would always reccomend free traffic (Jun 17, 2018 04:28 PM)FrogSquad4 Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Is there any CPA Networks that don't make you confirm identity or do a tax form or any of that shit.

- Hello Chicken... :D

To be honest all 4 are good if you focus on that area and stick with it

Youtube ranking cpa style videos bit of investment

seo low investment/ domain/hosting but requires more skill ig jarvee/server/sims/accounts bit of an investment unless you focus on building one large account in a niche crypto/ selling forex signals etc

spam anywhere you can is great for a beginner, spamming forum style sties for adult for example or chat sites (Jul 5, 2018 11:55 PM)Eternal. Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) To get started in adult marketing what would you recommend for starters?

for free traffic, very simply id suggest just doing something simple so you can start to understand the mind of the targeted area so for example ewhoring or if not then kik >> adult cpa to make some leads and money to start off with or snapchat >> cpa even its a bit more advanced than kik

a good tip for kik is to chat back manually and include their first name in the message so they know you are real, then say something like 'omg im being spammed on kik can we chat at link.com'

link.com should be a url redirect from your domain provider to the cpa link (no hosting required)

(Jul 12, 2018 09:54 AM)WtfBits Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Man I wish I knew where to start. I can get twitch bits/subs easy and was wondering if I can use CPA to give those away via CPA. Do you have any recommendations where to start?

i imagine that traffic demographics is younger guys so i would go with something like PPI (ogads) and a game hack even for the game that the twitch users are watching or something, fortnite for example is big at the moment you can google for other people doing it then spy on what they are doing, click their links and save their landing pages/edit and upload to your own host, spying on competition is one of the best ways to save time, spy, copy, improve key to cpa ;)

I've been working on some chatroom bots recently and some of them work pretty well. Surprisingly, there are very few other spammers in the chats. Most of the time I'm the only one. Some chatrooms have 200+ people! I'm trying to push adult offers from crakrevenue. I literally just finished making the bots today so I haven't really tested to see if I get any converts.

Do you think this will work or is it a waste of time? Should I push people to a snapchat first? You are well experienced so any input would be greatly appreciated.

(Jul 18, 2018 02:49 PM)SoccerBet Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) How would you do to start adult CPA with simple DOI or SOI, or PPL which method would you use on which platform?

I have spoken about simple styles of spam throughout my threads, bascially talking to the users one step above ewhoring and getting them to signup to your domain

You'd want to purchase your own domain so that you don't have to send the long affiliate link

Something like Banglocalmoms.com

301 redirect to offer or landing page

So you might use KIK to spread out on the internet

Guys will add you

Then you can talk to them, best to keep it short and direct, tell them what you like doing etc then hit them with 'omg im being spammed on kik can we talk on link.com'

then exit the chat and mute it the user will either go to url and signup or leave, but sometimes even the ones that leave come back and signup a few days later to find traffic for kik plenty of places, social media, twitter better for adult, ig still strong, forums, porn sites etc men are everywhere

(Jul 18, 2018 02:49 PM)SoccerBet Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) How would you do to start adult CPA with simple DOI or SOI, or PPL which method would you use on which platform?

Would you like to see my private porn collection too mate??

My cvrs range from low to high, it changes depends on what im promoting and how well targeted the traffic is

But asking for clicks is a bit pointless i could buy 10k clicks from brazil for a few hundred and make nothing

Nice one mate good to see you doing something, are you doing adult and PPS sales? or something else

(Jul 20, 2018 09:49 AM)Quality_k1nG Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Hi Rod$,

I would like to thank you first for the awesome work you are doing for people.

Here is my question , I earned couple of bucks its been 3 years but now I am starting all things again so now I'm collecting all the email and trying to do email marketing thing along with CPA, i have the list i just collected through google idk that will work or not but I want a free online emailer so that i can start my thing . what you think of that idea (collecting email and mailing them cpa offer) , will it work , its worth?or not . I am really confused what to do anyway thank you .

Thanks for the kind words

To be honest i have almost never worked with email marketing although it can still be highly profitable, there is new GDPR restrictions means you gotta pay certain amount to send emails idk if its just EU or not. Are the emails you collecting well targeted? have you tested for open rate %, something like mailchimp is a classic well known email marketing tool, but really if you have more experience in other areas where you can get traffic like social media then i would focus your efforts on there and not email marketing it can be quite technical with the tracking and such (Jul 20, 2018 06:10 PM)getlow Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Hi there thanks for this thread,i have some questions i start with cpa 1 month ago i try IG and i cant make some money ex. i invest 300$ and i make 300$,now i whant to try with paid ads but i read that 90% from paid traffic is bot traffic,can you tell me which network is the best from your experience. Thanks

Hello,

Yes there is some bots

NO not 90% of paid traffic is bots

With smart tracking tools you can see if its bots fairly quickly

Also $300 isnt much to start paid traffic on, im not sure which paid traffic source you are on about but most of them id start with a lot more than $300, you gotta spend a few hundred to test stuff before you do anything more (Jul 23, 2018 04:30 AM)giggetto94 Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) hey man got any tips for someone like me that know literally anything about cpa? i'd like to understand how to get accepted on a network and how to find a good offer to make a landing page for that can get a good convert % !

Hey

I can give you the basics

Read and be active on lots of forums out there hackforums is only one, the best thing you can do when you're new is to get out there and meet other people, talk to them frequently and plan work together, it will keep you motivated and you will build strong relationships which help a lot later on in your cpa journey, you cant do everything yourself, also id suggest choosing and sticking to one vertical, a vertical is something like dating, health, app installs, surveys, gambling, bascially different niches and offers

As for cpa network getting accept, i wouldnt worry too much, go for some mainstream ones i can reccomend a few if you need, but just be honest say you're starting out and have some hours to put in, also sometimes your account managers on these networks can be experienced themselves so try ask them questions if they are, but don't annoy them ;)

(Jul 24, 2018 03:07 AM)Fiyaa Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) What software do you recommend to autoreplay videos and video applications via youtube live streaming

A few people have asked me about this, i havent fucked about with youtube much so i cant give any good advice, but id suggest starting with some good quality accounts, thats usually a common problem with scoial media spam, also good quality proxies

(Jul 24, 2018 11:02 PM)?A5? Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I've been working on some chatroom bots recently and some of them work pretty well. Surprisingly, there are very few other spammers in the chats. Most of the time I'm the only one. Some chatrooms have 200+ people! I'm trying to push adult offers from crakrevenue. I literally just finished making the bots today so I haven't really tested to see if I get any converts.

Do you think this will work or is it a waste of time? Should I push people to a snapchat first? You are well experienced so any input would be greatly appreciated.

I have heard about these over the years, a pretty oldschool method but still working to this day! Yes i would try to offload the traffic to another source which you have more control over such as snapchat/kik

Direct linking would work but probably not as well, try test both if you can, you're links might get banned quickly same with your snapchat name on certain sites if they get ghosted never liked crakrevenue over the years

id move to another network adverten is good for beginners but offervault.com is a good site to find offers from loads of networks!!

I'm trying to invest in CPA. How much do I need? just for Domain + Hosting and creating landing pages? Any website where I can get cheap domain and hosting?

Also, can I just directly advertise my (Landing page Link) to any social media? Is that safe?

Hey Rods, Thanks for this awesome help thread.

I've been in the CPA business around 2 years ago, and I tried my best to work hard, but I only made $75 in 8 months. I paid multiples of this shit to have things just running. I chose the IG free followers niche and I used follow liker. but I didn't make enough money. I used some lander page but didn't make money. Nowadays I've got a clear mind and I want to start clean. I want to:

- 1- Know which niche should I use nowadays
- 2- Where should I start from scratch
- 3- Are there any detailed guides you recommend

I already have some domains and hosting that I can use
I was using OGAds

Hey Rod$,

My bad for digging this old thread up, hope you don't mind.

First of all, I've tried CPA a year ago, nothing big.

Mainly used ig for traffic and followliker for botting with OGads.

In a 4 months span, I was able to cash out 100$ but it wasn't enough for me and stopped.

I'm currently looking to get back into the game. Been reading a little bit, seems like a few things changed, newer methods, etc.

So where would I start if I were to get back into CPA?

Thanks

Moon - January 16, 2019, 11:55 am

Hello Rod,

I want to start Adult/Dating CPA offers, using paid traffic but I got rejected from Maxbounty. Do you know any good network that could accept me and has good offers?

For SEO i would focus on having a .com its much better, and a fully responsive site isnt just necessary for SEO but for anything online in 2019, with pcs, phones, tablets and hell even TV's connecting to the internet people can browse from any device, so yes fully responsive is needed! As for the site i would just get a theme from envomarket place or somewhere similar, you can get some dope ones for cheap and just edit the text/image files through the html code which is fairly easy for anyone

Recently, I gained an abundant amount of money and I'm looking to re-invest into CPA. (No Investment Budget). I just have a few questions in regards to CPA that might be cluttering my mind.

- In regards to SEO, if I spend more money on my site (More HQ SEO Services) does that increase the chance of ranking my site?

- Since the early days of CPA, is there any serious changes to ranking a YouTube Video?
- In regards to YouTube, if I spend more money on my video in terms of likes and views (not aesthetics, thumbnails and overall quality) would that increase my chances of ranking?
- Is creativity overall the secret in CPA or do the professionals have organized ways they find their niches?

Thank you so much for your time
