Going to keep it short since its just 5$ lmao

But this user: <https://hackforums.net/reputation.php?uid=3205408>

Charged back the money after I helped him setup rat.

He only paid 5$ for setting up a rat. I set it up and tested it worked 100%

He messed it up after few hours and kept spamming me asking for help.

I was busy programming I did not have free time to see what he messed up so he charge backed.

Note that we never agreed on support. I was only paid to set it up which I did.

Somebody as ignorant as that, who charges back deserves nothing less regardless of if you did it or not. Over $5, and the extra risk of it triggering PayPal locks, he even admits in that screenshot "ye i know", SMH..

Hopefully you get this resolved mate.

Probably some young kid. Don't sweat it man. Don't extend this. Should just close this and end the drama before it starts.

I did not made the thread to make drama. I don't really care about 5$ I made it so he wont scam anyone else & people can do Trust Scan and Lookup his User ID before dealing ?
