Thread: Much more responsive staffing team than in the past

Marxist - March 31, 2017, 8:39 am

I wanted to give a tip of my hat to the staffing team as of late.

In the past when I reported a post for something it probably wouldn't be looked at, and if it did I feel like it was always deemed low on the totem.

Now, when I report a post I feel like someone checks it out within 5-10 minutes and I'm consistently seeing action being taken on them.

Keep it up my dudes.

I feel like Minimalist is the guy who usually goes over reports and keeps an eye on the forum.

Reason why is because that's what he did when he was just UB3R.

The other staff-members probably do more things than we think, we just can't see it.

Need to correct you here. You can see some activity here:

To be fair, back in the day staff had thousands of reports to deal with. Members don't nearly report that much anymore so it's much easier to handle. Not trying to take away from what the current staff do, just providing some context.

The current staff and doing a f'n amazing job.

Yes you are correct when you say this sir.

Minimalist was the same before he was even staff, he does a fantastic job at protecting HF.

Eagle 95 is exceptionally active too. I think him and Minimalist have been a great addition to the staff. :)
