

Forum:Hack Forums

Thread: How embarrassing would you consider failing to be?

Yumii - March 31, 2017, 2:11 pm

I'm lazy as fuck. I'm doing online school and I've left it alone all year because I'm a lazy ass who likes games. There's like 3 months of school left and I'm only like 1/4 through my courses, and I still have to enter into 3 more courses to pass, which I haven't even started on. I'm pretty stupid. How embarrassing would you consider failing to be? Have you ever failed and like.. been in a class with people younger than you for it? (repeating the grade)

Any suggestions for wat do? I'm pretty bamboozled here, I dug my own grave here. I'm trying to rapidfire work for the rest of the year but I don't think that's gonna get me to a passing grade.

HeyBuddy - March 31, 2017, 2:12 pm

Not at all. Shouldn't feel embarassed for learrning or lack of learning. Everyone is different.

College isn't for everyone. If you dont like it, figure out your own path.

synboxin - March 31, 2017, 2:12 pm

I've failed but I didn't fail by grades I failed by attendance, I don't think it's a big deal - you should just try a little harder.

If the online school work is hard for you, I suggest going to school in person and actually trying it out and get help instead of basically teaching yourself on a computer.

Classic™ - March 31, 2017, 2:14 pm

(Mar 31, 2017 02:12 PM)HeyBuddy Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Not at all. Shouldn't feel embarassed for learning or lack of learning. Everyone is different.

College isn't for everyone. If you dont like it, figure out your own path.

OP is in highschool.

Honey S?ngh - March 31, 2017, 2:20 pm

I am a living failure, idk what embarresment means.

Yumii - March 31, 2017, 2:21 pm

(Mar 31, 2017 02:12 PM)synboxin Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I've failed but I didn't fail by grades I failed by attendance, I don't think it's a big deal - you should just try a little harder.

If the online school work is hard for you, I suggest going to school in person and actually trying it out and get help instead of basically teaching yourself on a computer.

Yeah, I didn't realize how fuckin hard it would be to push myself to do work by myself. There's no one telling me "Hey, you gotta do this." so it's pretty hard. You've got games on the same computer that you have to do work on, I'm gonna favor games lul. I'll be moving provinces, so no one's really gonna know that I'm supposed to be in a higher grade, that's pretty much all I'm worried about. I'd also like to have my focus on music production and learning all about how to be smart with my money, but I really gotta get my priorities straight and get school out of the way first.

bezbo - March 31, 2017, 2:22 pm

I've failed 2 years at my high school 4 years ago, I've finished it like a boss tho, with 21 but who gives a fuck.

Im now making steady 10000$ a month profit lol

V for Vegan - March 31, 2017, 2:22 pm

Lmao so first you do online HS
lol

Second of all you're failing high school

Get your shit together and grind that 3/4 of a class. If you can't pass high school then you should legitimately, seriously, honestly kill yourself.

toneyhh - March 31, 2017, 2:22 pm

You should be embarrassed for being lazy. It's a different story if you tried and failed.

If you are in high school and failing shame on you. When i was in high school i had straight A+'s rsx - March 31, 2017, 2:24 pm

You're doing online school? Shit I did a year of online school and didn't do shit until the last quarter, then just spent all day everyday making up work I missed and still passed

If you don't pass it's not that big of a deal to repeat a grade, at least it will be easy to pass next year

Old School Cracker - March 31, 2017, 2:25 pm

Failing in studies is nothing to be embarrassed about unless you studied hard :D

Yumii - March 31, 2017, 2:28 pm

(Mar 31, 2017 02:22 PM)toneyhh Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) You should be embarrassed for being lazy. It's a different story if you tried and failed.

If you are in high school and failing shame on you. When i was in high school i had straight A+'s
I have A+'s in all of my classes, my work is fine. I have very good quality work, it's just the fact that I can't push myself to always be doing work. I'm unmotivated. I really do try, but it's pretty pathetic that I can't lul.

Flared - March 31, 2017, 2:30 pm

If you know what you want to do with your life (which you probably don't considering you said you spend your time playing video games), then school isn't necessary. Either you figure out how to make money without an education, or grind your ass off and study.

Yumii - March 31, 2017, 2:35 pm

(Mar 31, 2017 02:30 PM)Diamond™ Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) If you know what you want to do with your life (which you probably don't considering you said you spend your time playing video games), then school isn't necessary. Either you figure out how to make money without an education, or grind your ass off and study.

I kinda know what I want to do. I'm still going to grind my ass like some GOOD KUSH till I pass, but I want to go to a trade school (still requires me passing, so I might as well grind my ass off) and get a job through that, and then further my knowledge with music and try to get music going somehow. Whether that be me getting signed to a label, me starting a label, me selling my music off, just something that has to do with music. Bottom line, I'm an ardtardo who needs to work.

SXSW - March 31, 2017, 2:35 pm

(Mar 31, 2017 02:28 PM)Yumii Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I have A+'s in all of my classes, my work is fine. I have very good quality work, it's just the fact that I can't push myself to always be doing work. I'm unmotivated. I really do try, but it's pretty pathetic that I can't lul.

Why would you do Online School then?

Yumii - March 31, 2017, 2:52 pm

(Mar 31, 2017 02:35 PM)SXSW Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Why would you do Online School then?
Do you think I went into online school knowing that I'd find it this hard?

SXSW - March 31, 2017, 2:59 pm

(Mar 31, 2017 02:52 PM)Yumii Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Do you think I went into online school knowing that I'd find it this hard?

If you knew you were a lazy individual you shouldn't have done online School. High School isn't hard at all and it's not like your the only one that has to do it. Get your shit together and just finish. You already made it all the way to high school you might as well just finish. There's zero excuses on why you can't complete your work. Instead of browsing HF just do your work.

Yumii - March 31, 2017, 3:12 pm

(Mar 31, 2017 02:59 PM)SXSW Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) If you knew you were a lazy individual you shouldn't have done online School. High School isn't hard at all and it's not like your the only one that has to do it. Get your shit together and just finish. You already made it all the way to high school you might as well just finish. There's zero excuses on why you can't complete your work. Instead of browsing HF just do your work.

you're right. smd. im doin work now.

hfTP54 - March 31, 2017, 8:50 pm

Well even if u are about to, u haven't failed yet. Start working hard and don't think that hs is everything.

Yumii - April 1, 2017, 12:16 am

(Mar 31, 2017 08:50 PM)hfTP54 Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Well even if u are about to, u haven't failed yet. Start working hard and don't think that hs is everything.

I mean it's kinda a big deal. Big boi jobs won't even consider looking at me without a HS graduation. it's all gud, imma work my lazy ass off.

LeonBackward - April 1, 2017, 2:58 am

Considering that it's an online school, could you not pay one of the Homework Services to do the work for you?

I don't know your financial situation though.

Anyway, there is still time, just stop the gaming and put in a few long days and you'll catch up.

Failing isn't the end of the world either. Think of it as a lesson in itself.

Grand Pootis - April 1, 2017, 7:59 am

I would just pay someone to do some of the work.

Exodus. - April 1, 2017, 7:22 pm

Let me put this into perspective for you.

I started at Algebra 1 in freshmen year during high school, while most of my what I would call "intellectual" friends at that time were in Accelerated/Honors/AP classes, and since I was in Algebra 1 (non honors), if I had continued getting easy As, and kept on playing games/tv etc at home I would have ended up in Trig/Precalc senior year. However, I changed myself and started seeking every opportunity possible, now my high school path has me finishing high school with AP Calculus BC Math and AP Stats. Point of the story is; ambition, integrity, and hard-work has gotten me to where I am. Sometimes you have to be a realist and realize games won't cut it in the future, unless you're Pewdiepie or plan on being a mainstream streamer/gamer for a living. I realize I could have rephrased this paragraph better but cba ?

Yumii - April 1, 2017, 8:28 pm

(Apr 1, 2017 07:22 PM)Exodus. Wrote: CITE Let me put this into perspective for you.

I started at Algebra 1 in freshmen year during high school, while most of my what I would call "intellectual" friends at that time were in Accelerated/Honors/AP classes, and since I was in Algebra 1 (non honors), if I had continued getting easy As, and kept on playing games/tv etc at home I would have ended up in Trig/Precalc senior year. However, I changed myself and started seeking every opportunity possible, now my high school path has me finishing high school with AP Calculus BC Math and AP Stats. Point of the story is; ambition, integrity, and hard-work has gotten me to where I am. Sometimes you have to be a realist and realize games won't cut it in the future, unless you're Pewdiepie or plan on being a mainstream streamer/gamer for a living. I realize I could have rephrased this paragraph better but cba ?

I agree. I'm kinda realizing that I need to quit being a little bitch. I worked on schoolwork for 9 hours yesterday, taking the weekend to rest, and then rapidfire all next week. Games will get me no where lul.

Johnathan - April 2, 2017, 10:13 am

OP, you shouldn't feel embarrassed as everyone is different. I always thought that if I did the work now, that it would benefit my future and also allow for me to have some free-time. After high-school you are on your own and then you will have to start balancing a job as well. High-school is the best place to start working on these things as it's somewhat a median of the real-world and guardian-assisted schooling hence less work load.

cor3 - April 3, 2017, 1:39 am i dropped college about 1 year ago.

since 2 or 3 years ago i started to make a living out of online money and i got that.

I study what i want when i want.

I work when i want.

I sleep when i want, eat, drink, party (actually i don't party), and do anything pretty much when i want ?

the thing is that you need to be responsible whether you like it or not.

Find something you like doing and try to make a life out of it.

If its legal, better, if its illegal, don't do it please.

But seriously finish school, trust me, school isn't hard at all when you have life ahead.
is just that i don't really need it.

Wonder - April 3, 2017, 1:44 am

"I'll tell you how I feel about school, Jerry: it's a waste of time. Bunch of people runnin' around bumpin' into each other, got a guy up front says, '2 + 2,' and the people in the back say, '4.' Then the bell rings and they give you a carton of milk and a piece of paper that says you can go take a dump or somethin'. I mean, it's not a place for smart people, Jerry. I know that's not a popular opinion, but that's my two cents on the issue."

- Rick

Mr.Peanut - April 3, 2017, 1:49 am

Just remember it's not the end of the world of the end of your life/financial career if you don't pursue school. Embarrassed is an emotion you may feel, but who would you be embarrassed from? Family? The peers of yours who will forget about you regardless if you fail or succeed?

Yumii - April 3, 2017, 1:59 am

(Apr 3, 2017 01:49 AM)Mr.Peanut Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Just remember it's not the end of the world of the end of your life/financial career if you don't pursue school. Embarrassed is an emotion you may feel, but who would you be embarrassed from? Family? The peers of yours who will forget about you regardless if you fail or succeed?

It's just kinda that whole "Haha, look at this kid, he failed, now he's a grade lower."

I know people probably won't think that shit, and even if they do, what does it matter? It's just an anxious spooky feeling. I've got many mixed opinions from this post, and my plan from you guys is yes, finish highschool, get that done so I can have that status. I'll get further education if what I feel like what I want to do needs it. I have time to decide, I'm pretty young and have a year+ to decide what I wanna do.

Thanks for giving me your input I seriously really do appreciate it a ton. I'm glad you boiz took the time outta your day to give a little advice/opinion. Thank you.

albussheep - April 4, 2017, 7:37 am

Well in high school a lot of things are magnified, because your scope of importance is very narrow. Once you are out of there the amount of people you'll stay in contact with or see again will probably be very limited anyway, you just need to focus on yourself and only yourself. Try not to fail, you'll probably regret it later but if you do it really isn't the end.

P3TER P4RKER - April 5, 2017, 10:25 am

Im a massive failure for most of my life. They didnt have online school in my state back in the mid 00's I dropped out in 9th grade the only way I passed the other grades past 7th was I had a buddy tell me when the test where. I learned how to spell mostly from World of Warcraft and CS learned math from WoW Had a love for history so I learned that all from youtube. You get my point I learned everything from the internet. Aced my GED and now im in school on a local colleges online course for graphic design.

Yumii - April 5, 2017, 5:27 pm

(Apr 5, 2017 10:25 AM)Papa Emeritus Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Im a massive failure for most of my life. They didnt have online school in my state back in the mid 00's I dropped out in 9th grade the only way I passed the other grades past 7th was I had a buddy tell me when the test where. I learned how to spell mostly from World of Warcraft and CS learned math from WoW Had a love for history so I learned that all from youtube. You get my point I learned everything from the internet. Aced my GED and now im in school on a local colleges online course for graphic design.

I heard about that shit. You don't really need High School to take your GED. If you study on the internet well enough (I assume it's just like online school kinda), then take your GED and pass, what door does that open in my life?

Yumii - September 10, 2017, 8:43 am

Howdy just an update, I passed. :^)

Kuri - September 10, 2017, 11:59 am

(Sep 10, 2017 08:43 AM)Yumii Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Howdy just an update, I passed. :^)

Congratulations!

Underworldproblem - September 10, 2017, 12:23 pm

It wasn't until I entered college that I realized that high school is a cake walk. And the only reason people fail is that they have no interest in learning (well that's one main factor, there are others).

yungstzzy - September 10, 2017, 1:41 pm

very embarrassing, not because of other people its more like you wasted all that time to just fail at the end.

Pacquiao - September 10, 2017, 1:51 pm

Bro, don't fail at school shit is too easy. I quited school because failing much due to not showing up and ever since my brain hurts from not finishing it. It's like I can't finish anything else, for real just go for it. Unless you found the new form of comminucations or something else revolutionary, fuck games, fuck weed. Go to school not to find a job, but to put your mind at ease finishing it

Kuri - September 10, 2017, 8:31 pm

Failures ether make you or break you. Ask yourself this, really is this the best you can do?

Jimmie - September 10, 2017, 9:19 pm

Pretty embarrassing I fucked in around in school and still passed every high school year.

nivek123 - September 10, 2017, 10:40 pm

Man i feel you . I failed many classes freshman & sophomore year. Believe me walking into a class full of freshmen as a senior is the most emberrasing thing ever . All the classes you regularly have to take plus other classes yo have to retake really makes the rest of yur years more miserable than they have to. So i suggest get on your stuff & pass because if you dont itll be a pain

SSnarF - September 11, 2017, 5:07 am

Well it depends on how you fail .i failed because i did absolutly nothing for the whole school year. so that was pretty emberassing

Riyu - September 11, 2017, 5:14 am

I literally did nothing and barely went to class and I still managed to graduate. It's honestly not hard to just do some work here and there.

Calogero' - September 11, 2017, 8:12 am

Not at all. You win or you learn.

hotshot511 - September 11, 2017, 1:21 pm

As asian failing consider pretty embrassing, but try harder! someone will apperciate you!