Thread: Beginner Hacking Group - Learn & Grow

thirtyone - April 4, 2017, 1:30 am

Hello HF!

Awhile back I wanted to create a group that we can all learn about hacking and security. I wanted to not only provide a place for friendships to prosper but the learning to have a more one-on-one feel. This is why I decided to create InfSec - Information Security Group

Mission Statement: We exist to work on collaborative projects in order to learn as security experts.

Contact information:

To gain access to the group and its resources you can apply at this link: Code bit . ly/2oDMaF8 (It is simply a google form link, if you do not wish to click on it please message me an email for slack, or skype name)

For me personally, I have worked for a few companies as their private security contractor and I can provide a bit of guidance. I am more after fostering a great community.

Thanks all :)

Not the exact link, just posting it so that people know it's not a referral or something
