There are plenty of guides on google. You can also send me a PM if you have detailed questions.

First of all ur opener is way too straight forward.

Try being considerate, let them know what u offer and end it with something like "anything really helps but I do have my own rates obviously. If ur not interested in buying I'm sorry for wasting ur time" many people won't respond or they simply will outright say they're not interested. few will keep going and asking for free stuff.

If they ask for previews right away ask them if they're willing to help. Stick with 2-4 previews at most, nothing more, and make sure u tell them u don't give free previews.

With this I've been able to get customers consistently. Like 10$-30$ daily with OK traffic ^^

If u need further help let me know. MSG me for my Skype :)

There's a ton of forums on this. I read a few and they really helped me out. Look around a bit and pick through the time wasters

i personally dont say anything for sale or hint about money in my forums posts just that nudes are available then once i get them to my playform "kik/snapchat/skype" etc then i explain that i am will to sell them, my method may not be the best just explaining how i do :) hope this helps
