This user his usertitle.

Isn't he complaining about the repkill?

Yes. This would be against the rules.

I wouldn't really count that as repkill complaining, but eh, it IS rep complaining.

Why are you worrying about him?

If he doesn't change that he will get a one month ban.

Nothing really specifically about the guy.

He has a scam report on his name which I clicked on and saw his usertitle.

Thought I'd ask the forums whether it's against the rules.

In addition to complaining You could almost also interpret that as asking for reputation from people he previously had done deals with. This user is playing with fire.

Alright, thank you everyone.

I've reported this to a staff member, awaiting for action to be taken.
