Thread: Fight Thread Pollution! Post here if it's not worth a new thread.

The title describes the purpose of this thread very well. So please, don't let our Lounge pollute, post here instead!

Lmao the irony on this one :P

Finally I can use this thread for a post ;)

I have a little question about the awards. A few minutes ago I read something about clover awards and wondered how to get them. The description was "for the lucky". Means that, that you get this award by just posting or by doing nothing but waiting?

A thread about not wasting threads... Ironic isnt it?

Ahh, thanks a lot for this answer!

The odds are really small; you have to be very lucky to obtain one...

It is, but if the people with little questions (just like mine above) would post here instead of making a new thread, it would save a lot. :)

Why don't we have an official IRC for this very purpose?

Lounges generally aren't allowed.
