Thread: Is Lite botting safe?

Getting from place to place on Runescape is kinda annoying and slow for me since I just started membership and I dont have any transportation quests done yet, and I was wondering if Running the Auto Walker bot safe to use on my main account?

I mean, I'll only use it for a few minutes just to get from point A to point B and thats it, I'm not going to spend hours botting woodcutting or shit like that on my main, just walking.

So, is it risky?

You can use teleport to house hop to world 330 and just enter someones home that has a multitude of teleports.

You should finish fairy tale 1 and start 2 for access to rings most the other teles can be found in jewelry box at someones home or teleports.

Why not just buy jewelry that can teleport you around with ease?

Not worth the risk, if you care about the account.

No botting is safe anymore, sadly.

sajon1 - April 15, 2017, 7:14 pm

I would not risk it just to save a few minutes .
