Young thug is good it's true. But to say that it is the best rapper alive you abuse! I have a lot of examples but right away I think of eminem for example.

People will hate on Eminem. I used to because he was insanely mainstream, but once you listen to his old music, his prime music. If you don't like his music but like rap, you're in denial.

Nas is the best rapper, though.

Eminem coming in second.

My most favorite rapper is 50 Cent, though. I can't get tired of his music.

Pac and Biggie are so so overrated and probably don't even belong in the top 5.

I don't know about greatest rapper alive but once you start listening to him and understanding how his music sounds and the slang, his flow it's too good. He needs to drop some more shit. I've had Slime SS 1&2&3 on my music list for a longest.
