Thread: Marketers - A change is coming

Anakin™ - April 17, 2017, 4:54 am

"The Marketers is a group of like-minded businessmen and entrepreneurs who work together to achieve one common goal, creating profit."

Time for a change

I am the new leader of Marketers, along with The GRim and Nuworld.

I came back to HF recently and noticed that the groups aren't the same they were a few years back.

Not only that the price of the groups has been drastically decreased, the overall quality of groups' activity has decreased as well.

To be completely honest:

Marketers have been very inactive inside the group subforum.

The opinion on Marketers' members is questionable.

The group's current reputation in general is questionable.

I'm here to change that.

Starting right now, Marketers will focus on:

1. Getting more active inside the subforum

Inside the subforum Marketers will work as a team to accomplish partnerships and share knowledge.

2. Getting more active on the public part of the forum

As mentioned before, Marketers' reputation as a group is currently bad.

We will focus more on listening to the community and making HF a more quality place, primarily focusing on the Marketplace.

3. Removing inactive & inviting new members

Marketers is from now on invite only.

We will be primarily looking for people active inside the HF Marketplace, with skills ranging from general marketing to developers, GFX designers/artists, currency exchangers, etc.

Help us become a better group

If you have any suggestions, concerns or questions - please post here or PM me directly.

As part of the HF community, we would love to hear from you how and what we can do to improve.

Phrack - April 17, 2017, 5:12 am

Nice goodluck with Marketers !

Dunno what all the hate for Grim for is. He's always been good to me, posts honestly but I guess sometimes people don't like the cold hard facts.

nvm, found your recruitment post. Guess I'll try later once I'll match your Requirements

I remember this group. Grilled cheese ? ?

TB12 - April 17, 2017, 10:30 pm

I respect the fact you acknowledged your group's flaws rather than say a bunch of bullshit. If I come up with any useful suggestions I'll let you know.

Vince - April 17, 2017, 11:09 pm

Isn't every single group claiming the same thing and then nothing really changes in the end?

Its the groups cycle. Start out active, members get bored, go inactive and then the group goes inactive.

Couple months down the line the group owner sells and then it's the same thing all over again.

TheHackersLove - April 18, 2017, 1:20 am

Oh Codevade. I remember these days.

Ombra - April 18, 2017, 1:36 am

It looks like you have a clean idea about what should be done.

Hopefully your efforts will serve to good consequences and bring more activity to the group.

We'll actually try our best to make the group active long term.

That would be the attempt at making it active again. Also, this was a different group a couple months back.

Regardless, I'd love to be proven wrong and have a group that has a presence and is active and doesn't sell a couple months down the road. Tired of constant group turnover because people treat them more like a business than anything.

"The group's current reputation in general is questionable."

Kick all shitbook sellers, and those people who always reply with this:

"PMed you with a few questions!"

"I have a few questions about this, get back to me!"

"Seems interesting, posting here to come back later"

those fucking peasants trigger me so hard, kthx

this would make the rep of a group a whole lot better, knowing that people actually interested in buisness are in the group not retarded 16 year olds selling shitbooks and bumping each others threads looking to make a quick buck to buy their jordans or whatverthefucknot.

Anyway, GL with the new change looks interesting :)

Suggested this to Grim, but you should add a stock market section for trading. It'd fit into the group and be active with the amount of traders we have on the forum.

Cooligan - April 19, 2017, 4:59 pm

I appreciate the honesty to the community, that's a noble move.

I'm very eager to see what changes and or updates come forth in the near future from you guys.

I also wouldn't mind helping out in areas where my assistance could be beneficial to The Marketers as a whole.

Social Engineer - April 19, 2017, 5:28 pm

Wish you the best of luck in achieving what you're trying to. I remember the Marketers being one of the groups I've always wanted to join since the beginning. Would be nice to see it get back to the top again.

I've never been in a good business group. They're all literally fucking shit ebook sellers and "hackforums marketing" like no real assets or anything about making serious money.

It'd be so cool to see a marketing group actually focused on marketing tactics and software and techniques. I would be soooo hyped for something like that.

Cloaked. - April 22, 2017, 8:20 am

In all my time here on this forum I joined 2 groups that were focused on money making in general. They both got closed in the end since there wasn't much that was being done inside.

They both had plans laid out that sounded really good but, I don't know.. Shitty leadership, commitment, I don't know what happened that scared them so much that they wouldn't move up and actually act on their ideas.

It's all fun and games until the time the act comes forth lol

People here taught me a lot of things, both good and bad. Bought a lot of eBooks which were trash and bought some that were hiding some really awesome, probably public knowledge. All my current earnings, life style and knowledge is thanks to the people here but I will never join another marketing group again. I can't really trust anyone here again that far D:

Still, best of luck with your group. Hopefully you'll actually turn the tides and make this into something great. I'd be happy and probably even consider the idea of joining up. I plan to move out again in a few months so I can focus more on my work home and start reading some things about trading. Maybe by then there'd be something here to look up to.

We have decided that our first activity outside the private forum will be upgrading one member each week to either L33T, UB3R or 3P1C to show our support to members of the community.

First one can be found here.

More activities will be announced soon, we're still discussing options. :)
