If this isn't allowed to be discussed then I apologize.

Searched the market place for a vendor with no luck.

I'm in search for Steam accounts that are dated (not fresh/new) that are trade ready. Can someone point me or PM me to the right direction for a reliable vendor for these?

Thank you.

I believe if you log into a new computer or change password/email you'll be forced into a trade ban, not much you can do about it.

When you log into a new computer it's a 7 day restriction. If it already had steam guard via email and I log into a new device it's only a 7 day restriction.

I want steam accounts that I can buy that are trade ready. I will have to obviously wait out a 7 day wait period.

This thread could be mistaken for a marketplace thread. I recommend you to post this in the Buyers Bay section.
