Thread: [\[Official Group\] Baka - Recruitment #3](#)

Nevieth - April 18, 2017, 6:00 pm

This is Baka's third recruitment.

Apply to join Baka! Do not apply via usercp, we're only accepting applications on this thread.

Baka is an anime oriented group.

If you're a true anime fan, or fan of similar genres, you can't miss the chance to join this family.

A place to discuss anime, manga and Japanese culture.

Requirements to apply

No scam reports.

No trolling or flaming other members.

Be active! We don't want ghost members.

Respect the group rules.

You must like Anime.

Application Form

You're free to edit the application design but all questions must be answered. Don't half-ass your application. Put some effort into your app and your chances of being invited double.

Cutoff Date

Cutoff is in two weeks.

So on June 3rd we'll be shutting down this recruitment thread, so apply while you can. If you've already submitted an application you CANNOT submit a new one. If you revise your old application please send me a private message. Don't ask to join, simply let me know it's been updated and what page it's on.

If you're going to make a troll app (Ex: Cory in the house, etc), I'll report your post so don't even bother. It's really old of a meme and not funny.

Thanks for saying that.

Troll applications will just be reported because I haven't had my beer yet and I'm grouchy. ?

These might include small spoilers, nothing to be too scared of.
Chivalry of a failed knight.

This has to be the best romance comedy anime I have ever seen in a long time. It delivers everything a person who like romcom animes. The story kicks off pretty easily which I like a lot. Both of the main characters are special in their own way with their own skills and tactics. On the list which I keep track of my shows this is on the top three. The ending in the anime leaves you extremely satisfied because you get to witness what he accomplishes against all the odds.. Orange

I like this anime a lot, it delivers most of the things that a person would like to see in a romance anime. The story is very well told and you are on the edge of your seat for most of the time while trying to tell the characters what to do in the situation that they are in. The anime might seem a bit boring at some times however if you can stand couple minutes of boringness you will get rewarded with an amazing story. Spoiler (Click to View) I consider myself as a pretty tough person, however this ending had left me in tears of [joy?] for how emotional it is. Toradora

Another anime that I enjoyed watching from the start till the end. The characters are pretty unique for how they act and what their personalities are (except for the tsundere acting). The story is well shown to the viewer. The most interesting part about this anime was that I was not going to watch it because the artwork seemed bad. However after the ending I came to the conclusion of "do not judge a book by its cover".

These are my TOP 3 Animes at the moment, if you wish to see my whole list of the anime I have seen and my rating on them you can do so by checking out this screenshot.

Spoiler (Click to View)

AOT Why do you want to join Baka: As I have said before, ever since Baka was introduced to Hackforums I fell in love with it. Finally we could have an official group on top of the anime section for people who enjoy anime, manga and the Japanese culture. I would love to engage in conversations about different anime, tell about the ones that I have seen and recommend shows for different types of people. I would also like to hear the opinions of different people to the Anime that I watch. I am a positive person who likes to talk about subjects that I like, in this case, Anime. If accepted, I will be consistently active on the subforum and also contribute and make different threads outside of the subforum to advertise baka if needed.

I've gone through and accepted about seven people. I will be going through again in a few days and adding in some more noobs as they apply.

If you applied and haven't been added so far don't worry, it just means you weren't in the first wave. Feel free to modify your application if you feel it will increase your chances. Only one user has been declined so far, and you know who you are.

I do not play anime games, except SAO on PS4. Other than that, I haven't found any games that actually interest me.

Why do you want to join Baka:I'm a hardcore anime fan, and a group that involves anime discussion with smart people is a group I'd definitely love to join and be active in. I also want to join this group as it would be a group with people I can relate to and a group with which we all have on thing in common, anime. I'd bring great discussion to this group and I think I'd be a really good addition.

Osu! Why do you want to join Baka:Anime is one of my primary passions. Besides just watching it, I also run an anime blog, attend conventions, and run various anime-related social media pages. I was previously in AnimeFAN when that was a group on here, and I am looking for a similar active group of people to discuss anime with. I frequently watch anime with others either through discod or skype, and it would be cool to coordinate something similar within the Baka usergroup. Other Information:MyAnimeList

The marketplace really scarred me traumatically, a lot of evil people there, but I believe that in the social realm of this forum its possible to meet and talk with clean and honest people and like-minded friends, or friends-to-be, who would share my interests in anime. I have bought lots of anime merchandise, including posters, mousepads, dakimakura covers, and as mentioned above, games. I also attend anime conventions and fairs IRL. Your favourite anime:

Sword Art Online

Anime games you have:

I currently do not have any Anime games, but I will explain why below!

Why do you want to join Baka:

The reason why I want to join Baka is because I have only recently been introduced to Anime. Within a short space of time I have binged watched 4 different Anime series fully. I love them so much, due to their intense storylines and huge plots and twists (e.g. Death Note and Code Geass is a good example of huge plans and twists). I find these super interesting and fun to watch - it gives me the motivation to watch episode after episode!

Despite being new to Anime, I find the Anime series and Japanese culture massively engaging! I feel like joining Baka would take me to the next step, and evolve my love for Anime even more. Being around other Anime enthusiasts would be intriguing and refreshing due to the amount of discussions I can be in and contributions I can provide to your group (e.g. Threads and posts). As a newer Anime fan, these discussions and my own contributions would strength my love and knowledge immensely. I feel like I would be active in your group based off of this reason alone!

To conclude: I think I will be a good contributor to your group through discussions that I will be involved in and by providing my own contributions, such as threads. All of this, would be to be around other Anime-fans and to broaden my overall knowledge of Anime and the Japanese culture as its something that highly appeals to me as an individual. Thank you.

It's the principle how you guys state on page on flaming and stuff will be reported yet your own guys are doing it. Nothing on HF actually gets under my skin. It's more that if the users of the group act like children then it only makes me wonder what happens behind closed doors. It is a shame the group was one of few I liked but now I have a tainted opinion of it.

Deadman Wonderland

Death Note (Really interesting plot)

Tokyo Ghoul

Spirited Away

Boku dake ga Inai Machi (Again, amazing plot)

Paranoia Agent

Guardian of The Sacred Spirit

Hyouka

Higurashi no Naku Koro ni

Gakkou no Kaidain (My favorite)

Ghost Hunt (Heard good things about it)

I would also list some anime movies I've watched, but I guess this is for the series only. I might talk about it later.

Also like half of those, I've only watched like 2 episodes max of, but still put them there to make it look better (sorry mate, I try so hard).

Anime games you have:

Sad life, never played these kinds of games. I guess MicroVolts would count? :D

Why do you want to join Baka:I haven't started watching anime that long ago, but I still managed to watch a ton (too much free time). I'd really love to find new ones and I kind of realized the best ones are the obscure ones rather than the ones everyone knows about so other members can probably show me some good ones. Summer is approaching and I really don't see why I should go outside with my friends when I got my waifu pillow and anime.

Also want to share some of my favorites with the others, maybe we could then discuss about it since I only have one friend who also likes these animes. We don't really talk that much anymore so I need some new ones, help.

I also know you guys are really friendly (compared to some others here) and I really appreciate and want to be a part of that - as a side-note.

Hope you'll take me into consideration, although I may not be that active in the month of June due to some exams, I will be most likely active everyday after that and almost every-day until June.
Thanks ;)

Cutoff is in two weeks.

So on June 3rd we'll be shutting down this recruitment thread, so apply while you can. If you've already submitted an application you CANNOT submit a new one. If you revise your old application please send me a private message. Don't ask to join, simply let me know it's been updated and what page it's on.

If you already submitted an application you're safe. We will review EVERY application, so you don't have to worry about getting skipped. Not everyone will be accepted, but everyone will be fairly evaluated.

It was the first anime I ever watched, I don't really remember why. I used to be an anime hater back then because I thought it was for weird people or whatever, I don't even know. I watched a few episodes and I was very intrigued, and I couldn't wait to watch a new ep the next day. Once I finished I actually had to cry a little (I know I'm a pussy) because the story somehow struck a chord with me. So yeah Mirai Nikki kinda got me into anime. In addition to that, I also bought the manga too. I'm a huge fan of it.

Re:zero:

Not much to say. It was a pretty funny anime and I really liked the characters in it, especially Subaru because he wasn't your typical "OP MC" but rather a pretty normal guy that has to fight in this weird fantasy world as he slowly descends into madness. I pretty much just binge watched it in 3-4 days and i hope there will be a second season some day.

Steins;Gate:

We all know some anime are just entertainment, however Steins;Gate has an amazing plot line. Sure, the first episodes were pretty boring, however at around episode 9 or so it really got interesting. Overall a masterpiece and I think most people will agree.

Akame Ga Kill:

Many people say the characters are badly written and they dislike it because in the end pretty much everybody dies. Personally I really liked it tho, it was extremely entertaining yet had a pretty dark atmosphere. The art was also pretty good imo. Anime games you have:Danganronpa Trigger Happy Havoc

DGR Goodbye Despair

Nekopara Why do you want to join Baka:I really like the idea of a group for anime watchers because the AA section is full of trolls and stuff. I also want to get to know some more people on HF and I would enjoy being in a group with like minded people. Currently I don't really know what anime to watch so I would like getting some recommendations as well. I also feel like most members of the group are nice people that I would like to talk to. Thanks for reading my app.

Age:22 Years old Your favourite anime:Bleach (Mainstream, yes, but I promise I'm not like that)
The Saga of Tanya the Evil
Gurren Lagann Anime games you have:Dragonball Xenoverse 1&2
Attack on titan (PS4)
Stiens Gate Why do you want to join Baka:I'd love to be part of a community where I can talk about and discuss one of my favourite things. I love to help educate people with Anime also and I am open to everyone's opinion of each, not just of my own.
By joining the group, I am hoping to not just expand other knowledge about Anime, but to expand my own vastly.
