testaccountplsignore's Middle-Man Service

Stressed out about dealing with strangers on the internet? Looking for a reputable member to assist in otherwise risky deals? Don't have loose change to spend on a paid Middle-Man?

Well look no further - testaccountplsignore's Middle-Man service is here.

I am offering a risk free service to help you complete deals safely on HackForums.

What I can hold:

- BitCoin (BTC)
 - Oldschool Runescape Gold (OSRS GP)
 - Certain Online Accounts - please inquire first.

Contact Information:

Due to the fact that I do not use instant messaging applications - all deals must be done on HackForums.

The easiest way to contact me is via Private Message. Simply state that you want to exchange_ for _ and include a link to the other user's profile. Ensure that both parties are online if you want the deal do happen immediately. If you would like to schedule a time where we can all be online at the same time that can also work.

You are also more than willing to just post here on this thread. It will be less likely that I read it because I do not get any sort of notification for new posts. That being said, I do try my best to check for updated posts every single day. Use the format below and make a reply if you are interested in using this method.

Additional Information:

Terms and Conditions:

- I reserve the right to refuse or partake in any deal at any time.
- Both parties MUST have a positive reputation.
- All deals are FINAL - if you are scammed after the exchange I have no liability or responsibility to assist you and can not be held accountable.
- All deals must be done via HackForums. I do not use Skype or any other instant messaging applications.

FAQ:

Spoiler (Click to View) • How does Middle-Manning work?

Simple! Basically I operate as an escrow account between two parties. For example;

User A and User B want to trade Bitcoin for PayPal but neither of them wants to go first due to the risk of scamming. User A would send his currency to me and I would confirm that I have it. Once I have confirmed that I have the currency, User B would send his currency to User A. Once User A confirms that he has received the currency, I would release whatever I am holding to User B.

• Why don't you use/hold PayPal?

PayPal is extremely risky to use as a third party Middle-Man due to the fact that the funds can be reversed extremely easy. If a certain user was to charge back the funds that I was supposed to hold - both users would have their currencies but I would have to pay the amount that was chargebacked. I will not hold PayPal under any circumstances.

• Thank you for helping me! Is there any way I can thank you?

A simple thanks is more than enough, however, if you are satisfied and wouldn't mind leaving a vouch on this thread that would be very appreciated. Also recommending me to any other users you know that are looking for Middle-Men would be greatly appreciated. If you are wanting to give some sort of monetary tip for my service please contact me via Private Messages and we can work something out. Although you have absolutely no obligation to do so as this is a FREE service.

• I messaged you and did not receive a reply - what gives?

As much as I would like to be online 24/7 and helping people I do actually have a life. Your message will most likely receive a response within 12-24 hours however.
