Thread: HF's 10th Anniversary

Omniscient - April 21, 2017, 1:09 pm

So today HF is officially 10 years old. That's surely a notable milestone for any website. My personal thanks to all the members who have contributed with not only donations but their commitment to the community. Thank you to the members who have made more than 50 millions posts over the past 10 years. Without your support this site would not exist today nor will it survive past tomorrow. HF would not be here if it wasn't for the wonderful members that care about this place as much as I do.

Over the years so much has happened. Some of it good and some of it not-so-good. Just typing this up and thinking about the journey I can't help but feel that it has been incredible. I wake each day not knowing what I will face. That can be exciting as well as daunting but it's never boring.

I have spent a lot of time working with Meshcollider over the past few weeks with an API for HF. I was hoping to release it today but unfortunately it's just not ready for a beta yet. It is very close though.

I wish I could make this day more exciting for everyone. I must admit I couldn't sleep last night and I spent the morning working on the API hoping to launch it (still hoping). This week I reverted our group userbars to the originals and added HF's first promotion group R3KT. Yesterday for 4/20 I had a discount sale on the Legalize It award.

I'm going to leave the new 10th banner up for 30 days while we celebrate efforts are placed into new features for HF. This should be a great kickoff to the busy summer we have ahead.

Thanks to everyone that's made this possible and for just being here.

milkywaythegodfather - April 21, 2017, 1:10 pm

The forum has indeed come a long way since I've been here. Can't wait to see where it'll be in the upcoming years.

If I may ask, what's been the most exciting event and or time period of Hack Forums for you since you launched it?

What milestones were the biggest to you?

Appreciate all of your effort you put into running the site Omniscient.

Many many people love Hack Forums and what it's become.

Bluffer - April 21, 2017, 1:13 pm

DenizZ - April 21, 2017, 1:16 pm

Amazing milestone. Thank you Omni.

Omniscient - April 21, 2017, 1:17 pm

Quote:If I may ask, what's been the most exciting event and or time period of Hack Forums for you since you launched it?

Today. Honestly, I continue to be exciting by what I do on HF. The API imho is going to be a game changer.

I know some believe that HF's glory days are in the past but I don't agree at all. We have a lot less trolls here and generally speaking I think we're better off with less activity if the activity lost was crap.

HF has never been easier to run than it is right now. Attacks are mitigated automatically, servers are running smooth, and with each passing day I can continue to look towards plans for tomorrow.

I haven't been around that long here on hackforums, but I know that you do a lot of work to let everyone have a good experience here.

Vitani - April 21, 2017, 1:19 pm

This is actually so awesome. Reaching a 10 year anniversary is an achievement for any site, especially a forum. Just look at where we are right now. Incredible!

I only wish I could have been part of this forum and its community for a longer time.

@Omniscient Thank you so much for all your efforts. You have done an incredible job on running this website and you are a true webmaster. None of us would be here today if it wasn't for you. Thanks!

cASTL - April 21, 2017, 1:20 pm

Happy Birthday, HF! Haven't been here for a long time, but it's a great forum. Thanks, Omni.

Dean Winchester? - April 21, 2017, 1:20 pm

Happy anniversary Hackforums, just a couple days ago realized my account is 5 years old in a couple weeks.

Hope to see the forum active for atleast another 10+++ years.

Also, as a "celebration", could we have the old HF theme back? Fits well with the current userbars and I feel like a lot of us miss it. I don't remember why you removed it and what you said about it in the past so I figured it wouldn't hurt to ask

Narrate - April 21, 2017, 1:20 pm

Any comment on the userbars?

Are they going to stay this way (yes please), or are they going to be reverted after the anniversary?

Here's to a bright future.

(Apr 21, 2017 01:51 PM)xadamxk Wrote: CITE Omni you should wait a week or two to release the API.

That way I can finish finals and play with it :(

Likely won't be released till next week. I'm find a lot of bugs and trying to debug everything and make a list for Meshcollider to fix. I spent about 5 hours on it this morning but hit a wall when I realized a huge problem with query efficiency which I'm most likely going to ask him to fix as I don't believe I have the time. Just working my butt off trying to get this working to my specifications.

Cryptic™ - April 21, 2017, 2:13 pm

Can u at least tell us some of the features it will have.

I'm very curious to know if sellers will be able to take advantage of it in some way. (Example: know which HF user bought their product, etc)

Would benefit the market place a lot.

Although. after the 30 days will you be replacing the userbars with the newer ones? if so, would you ever consider a option for users to pick what one they'd like to display? I' much prefer the old ones and I know a few others do as well.

It's crazy how HF has evolved over the years. I remember my first year when HF was hacked, constantly being attacked, ddosed, and when Omni was actually considering selling the place. When people say HF changed for the worse, that's far from the truth. Many people haven't even been here during the darkest times. People cry over 5 minutes of downtime now, image back in the day when the site was down for days on end. Even though I just browse HF more than I post nowadays, I just want to say congrats to Omni on your accomplishment of 10 years! After over 7 years of watching you pour your soul into this site, I can't wait to see what's to come in the next 10.

Having been here for 7 out of those 10 years, I can say it has definitely been a ride! I've met so many good people here, and just as many bad. So much has happened to me within this time, and a lot of it revolves around my activity on HF. I still talk with people I met here 7 years ago, which to me is insane considering online friendships are hard to maintain.

It would be hard to imagine the last 7 years of my life not having HF, it's a life in which I am glad I didn't have to live. I hope this beauty of a site is still around for the next 10 years to come, I have much more I want to accomplish here, and many more people I would still like to befriend.

Little suggestion. Adding "Anniversary" next to 10th, just to make it clear. I mean many users know that this site was created April 2007, but I'm also sure most don't. It is a huge forum and not everyone knows this site was created in 2007 which makes the "10th" vague to some.

Omniscient please implement a vouch system. As I was going through some of your threads and came across a thread where you mentioned reputation system was never meant to be a vouch system for deals.

Hope after the api gets ready, you'll create one as a 10th year anniversary perk.

To make it even scarier I've spent 7 months online time actively on this site.

There's 72 months in six years. I spent 7 months out of the last 72 on HF.

I spent 9.7% of the last six years of my life on HF and that's not accounting for sleep.

Since half of the day I'm awake and the other half I'm asleep (roughly) that's only 36 hours.

So I've spent nearly 20% of my waking hours in the last six years on HF (mainly in my earlier years but the statistic is still almost unbelievable)

If my math is wrong someone please tell me because I need to find a new hobby ASAP.

Good lord.

Except that both "learned" and "learnt" are acceptable past tense spellings of "to learn", "learnt" is a common british spelling (less common than "learned" but still valid). Checkmate ?
