I believe it's towards the end of the year. I'll also be buying one

Charger - April 21, 2017, 7:14 pm

Start of Q4; gotta maximize holiday console and accessory sales.

Yeah, I don't think that will ever change lmao.

Hopefully by the time it's released the hype around it will still be there.

McCaskey - April 23, 2017, 12:36 pm

I remember buying my Xbox for 500$ when it came out...

Now it's like 200$.

Wonder what ridiculous price they will charge for this one.

Farshad97 - April 23, 2017, 12:36 pm

should i get ps4 pro or wait for this 1

Save yourself and switch to PC gaming.

May cost more at first, but i promise you it won't in the future.

Not to mention the gaming experience is way better.

Fuck keyboard and mouse.

My hands belong on a controller.

Keep telling yourself that, i used to think the same.

Console will never be as big as PC.

...You can also use a controller on PC if that's what's stopping you lol.

illuminati? - April 25, 2017, 10:16 am

I think it'll drop around the same the time Xbox One dropped.

So November something.

Why would you use a controller over someone that's keyboarding?
They would be able to 3 full 360 degree turns and still kill you.

Exitious - April 25, 2017, 12:56 pm

Its coming Holiday 2017, so prolly a lil before December. Search project scorpio on amazon for proof.

I'm a console player and feel bad for you.
Guess you can't possibly understand what you don't know.

I just enjoy pc life for the amount of cheap games you can get and using keyboard and mouse isn't too hard to get used to just give it a month and youll be having alot of fun

I've been a console gamer since day one and i've hated PC gaming until i tried it.
Now i've been playing more and more and getting used to it.
The experience PC gaming brings overwhelms console gaming.
PC gaming is so much bigger than console, i mean just look at the sections here on HF...

There will most likely never be a battle royal game for console.
All games on console are the same game with a different name.

OrbitalData - May 1, 2017, 3:30 am

I cannot wait for the Scorpio to be release. If everything still holds up to the release I'll be buying. MS will likely release this upcoming holiday around December.

Yandere - May 1, 2017, 3:32 am

New consoles usually drop around the holidays. I'm hoping GameStop will let me trade in my One S for 50% off like they let me do with my old Xbox One when I upgraded to the One S.

i have a gaming laptop, and play games on it, but i will never be able to bring myself to play fps games on pc. and i really only play fps games as it is. shit like LoL get's very stale for me very fast.

besides, you'll have the best experience on whichever platform your friends are also playing on. it doesn't make sense to go buy an xbox when all your friends use PS. same with PC gaming. why would i randomly switch to playing pc games by myself when i can get on xbox and run games with both people ive known online for years, and irl friends...

sorry i'm not motivated to go download league or csgo to solo queue for 4 hours straight. the only way i'd ever solo queue a game for that long would be if i'm playing halo -- a game i've been playing for over 10 years...

No wonder you don't have fun, you play League lul.

Your "gaming laptop" probably can't handle FPS games, so makes sense you play console only.

Btw, your always playing Halo by yourself lul.

You have no variety, living in the past with halo.

FUCK SAKE.
Maybe you should ask google first...
Someone would of gave you a released date if there was one to give.

I'm sure he got some dude to lack of quality in posts.
Kinda like this irrelevant post that has nothing to do with this section, or thread.
Keep the post count climbing ?

Why are you so butt hurt sean, Imao
I have a 1.5k laptop and I'm already ordering the new Aero 15 luls -- it can handle fps games. What the fuck am I gonna play on pc? Battlefield? The Division? Rainbow Six Siege? FOH also, you're*

and I rarely play anymore but when I do it's only for a few games, so yeah, lately I've been running solo. halo is the only game i can solo grind and still have fun, as i mentioned before...

don't be salty cus you can't adapt to new halos

1.5k gaming laptop, yet doesn't play computer games lul?
"fuck keyboard mouse" - Buys 1.5k gaming laptop.
Your probably one of them Runescape players.

I'm not "butt-hurt", it is pretty annoying when someone feels the need to comment on your posts talking shit.

Always feels the need to respond to a post negatively when it's not even directed to you, smh.
Your just cocky and have a grudge about something, so take your negative comments somewhere else.

Wat

I mean, I play h1z1 and some other games occasionally. But my primary use is for video editing and music production. "Gaming laptop" is just another term for "high performance" smh - doesn't mean I have to play every high demanding game on it. Shit, I'd buy a 3 or 4k "gaming" laptop if I could but its just a waste at that point. Besides, there's nothing wrong with runescape but I haven't played that shit since like the 6th grade lmao.

If anyone has a grudge it's you m8 ?
Go back to overwatch or broken MCC
You've been salty as hell since h5 came out, js

CS is fun and all, but I just can't sesh that game. Or any fuckin fps game on pc, jesus.

Hern - May 6, 2017, 12:02 am

I played trove back in the day but it was in like alpha Looks like it is better now I have to check it out again
