It has the tick but not the blue tick,although 450likes in a 186k page isn't quite active .-.

Facebook has launched verification badges for local businesses, which means you can apply for a grey tick on your page.

Facebook's blue tick is still reserved for celebrities, public figures, sports teams as well as media or entertainment companies -- sadly, small business can't pretend to be just like Beyonce.

That's the black tick. It's super easy to get, and doesn't add a lot of value. You know that right?
