Thread: Ever wanted to try blackdesert and join an active community?

So, I have like 6 codes of free 1 week pass (I can get more I guess) and I wanted to share them with everyone who doesn't have the chance of playing the game on the last 7 days free or never tried that game before.

I own a discord community which have an black desert mini community with like 12+ people online and playing together.

If you ever wanted to try the game, PM me so I can get you an code for free.

First of all, Download the game and PM me with Image of the game installed because I dont want to waste a codes of people who will not play the game after I give them (you will understand I'm pretty sure).

To do it, I will give you an code and just download the launcher from it, also you need to register through:

blackdesertonline.com

Played it with the free week pass, as someone who is a massive RPG fan it's just not for me. Only thing it has going for it is the graphics imo.

But for an RPG it's not too bad, although saying that I actually prefer the art style of say WoW than ones trying to be 'true to life' but that's just a personal preference.

Well, I kind of like this game because its not like every mmo that I played (bns,tera,silkroad,revelation,flyff and more) also not pay2win which I like :P

I just have started Black Desert Online and I really like the game. I have played about 6 years World Of Warcraft... had everything max leveled but It's getting boring so I quit it. I downloaded BDO 2 days ago so I have some free days to play still, but I'm on another server then you guys I think, but I'm interested in joining the discord! Let me know if I can join, cause I like the game allot.

Doubt people need your code, it's free for everyone.

There is just something about BDO that I don't like, maybe because I feel like it's too generic, It's not the grind because I have a max account on Runescape, just feels too similar to other free rpgs like Tera.

The only MMORPG I've really gotten into in recent years was Guild Wars 2 because they mixed up the typical RPG stereotypes.

Never tried GW2 but its looks sick but not my type of fighting style.

BDO got me because you have so much options except grinding and not pay2win which I like.

I bought this game way back. You can have my codes to give away if you want them. I don't play it anymore.

I've never been able to get into a MMO because of the grinding, but been wanting to try BD for a while now.

So dont try, Grinding is the most important thing to level up your character.

And if you're not into grinding, give up.
