

Forum:Hack Forums

Thread: I'm a step by step learner, can someone take me through the process of being a WHH?

PhantomComplex - April 24, 2017, 8:41 pm

Hey, recently I decided to look at my choices and take a change of heart. I love the idea of programming, and I used to always get into it with my friends, but then I would slowly die out of it wondering why. Well, after having a random epiphany as of yesterday, I've been doing some major thinking. My problem isn't that I don't like programming, it's that I don't like Black Hat hacking. This was all I was ever predisposed to when I joined the scene, as it was what had seemed popular in every outlet I looked upon. However after some lengthy thought and pondering, I believe that I have the determination to do this and stick with it. My biggest weakness right now is that I don't know the directions to take and what to do in order to improve myself, my abilities, and everything else. If anyone could link me and or provide me a small guide to go on as to what I'm supposed to do in order to improve upon myself knowledge wise of this, I would be extremely thankful. ?

CanadianBacon - April 24, 2017, 8:48 pm

The best thing you could do right now but is take a class. Like an irl class. That shit worked like manic fir me. Working with people and finding solutions to problems and projects is so much better when you are working with friends.

PhantomComplex - April 24, 2017, 8:51 pm

(Apr 24, 2017 08:48 PM)CanadianBacon Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) The best thing you could do right now but is take a class. Like an irl class. That shit worked like manic fir me. Working with people and finding solutions to problems and projects is so much better when you are working with friends.

I can completely understand that, however with me being only 15 with an eagerness to learn, is there classes that would actually be available to me? I'm taking AP programming as of next year, but other then that I'm kinda lost in that regard. I also wouldn't have any clue on what to do in terms of looking for a class, I'd probably just stare blankly at the first page of google and get completely confused.

Satudarah_temp - April 25, 2017, 1:10 am

I think you should look at this

uniteagainstmalware.com

Soulmate~?? - April 25, 2017, 6:20 am

Just so you know it could take 2-3 years to complete a Mawlare Removal course and sometimes a few months for your application to be processed. Follow the link the user posted above to apply for a Malware Removal University and then get familiar with FRST.

<http://www.geekstogo.com/forum/topic/335081-frst-tutorial-how-to-use-farbar-recovery-scan-tool/>

Aura - April 25, 2017, 4:07 pm

(Apr 25, 2017 01:10 AM)Satudarah_temp Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I think you should look at this

uniteagainstmalware.com

(Apr 25, 2017 06:20 AM)Soulmate~?? Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Just so you know it could take 2-3 years to complete a Mawlare Removal course and sometimes a few months for your application to be processed. Follow the link the user posted above to apply for a Malware Removal University and then get familiar with FRST.

<http://www.geekstogo.com/forum/topic/335081-frst-tutorial-how-to-use-farbar-recovery-scan-tool/>

Not going to happen like that.

Sparkfear - April 26, 2017, 6:14 am

Why not strengthen your basics and do some courses from sites like:
codeacademy