

Forum:Hack Forums

Thread: || Jopy's Testimonial || 3.5 YRS || How HF changed my life for the better ||

Joy - April 25, 2017, 12:53 am

JOPY'S TESTIMONIAL

HOW I JOINED THE SITE

I was 13 back then and was a normal kid playing games and shit on the internet. One of my friend from a game called TDP4 told me on a xat chat how we can get hacks and stuff on this forums. Back then i literally had no idea of what a forum was. I made an account here but i couldn't find any hacks and stuff of the game. 2 months later i was bored and came back to find other hacks and there i found the "Paid Graphics" section. Looked a bit and came to know u could earn some pocket change from here. There my journey started.

STARTING DAYS

My first graphics client was TheCalledMeNeon for $10. That gave me a lot of hope and will to earn more. I started making gfx daily and made a fair bit of amount. Made many good friends and stuff. Got some hate from other designers too but haters gonna hate. You just gotta keep hustling. A year passed and there had been too many gfx designs and less customers. I stopped my shop and started other ventures like selling eBooks, selling softwares, reselling stuffs. Many a lot of pocket change doing other stuff. Got multiple warning during my early years and stuff. Joined Nightmare, the only group i had been in and enjoyed alot there. Chilled with people and had lots of discussions. Everyone on this site is very helpful.

TURNAROUND

HF became an addiction. I used to hand around here alot. Used to talk to people and post kn the lounge and chill. Read stories in the Innuendo section and looked at peoples pets. Learnt some coding amd stuff. HF had started becoming my life. The major turnback came when my account was banned for 10 days. I made a new account because i didn't have anything to do irl. No girlfriend, no friends nothing. My real life was complete shit. I was such an introvert. My multi got banned and Omni told me to stick to this account. Got a 3-4 months ban i reckon. Well those 3-4 months had been miserable as well as great in a way. I started getting a real life. My irl life started being better. Started hanging out with people. Made irl friends and hanged out outside. I really thank Omni for atleast not closing my account. Came back after 3-4 months and since then i haven't received a single warning neither a ban. My lifes changed alot since then. My online and irl life both has been awesome. Got UB3R on here and right now i still got a long way to go.

CONCLUSION

Hackforums has been an awesome journey for me and totally changed my life for the better. The staff and Omni have been great in keeping this site organised and better. Without their constant efforts nothing could have been the way it is. You guys changed everyones life as well as mine. I can't thank you enough for everything. I hope you the best of luck. I gained a lot of knowledge from this site which i couldn't get elsewhere. Made some decent money off here too which helped me alot irl. Getting stuff for myself, my family and my girlfriend. Lifes been really good. Thanks a lot again. I hope my life continues to be better and everyone elses. Thanks.

-----XXXXXXXX-----