Thread: Best RAT?

Izzzy - April 25, 2017, 1:19 am

Good morning lads!

Right, you might be getting tired of these sort of post but I tell you what, I have completely no idea about hacking. Well I tell a lie I do know 'some' basics cause of my friend who used to let me watch him rat people. I thought it was cool and now I thought 'Fuck it' I'm going to try it myself but here's where I run into my first problem. I don't know which rats are safe, what else I need after I've got a rat, ect, ect. So this is why I am here I am reaching out for help from the members of HF so all help if useful even shit that you may think is obvious would really help me and give me a boost! ?

Thanks
Izzy

Using RATs isn't hacking, neither is it the right way to get started.

That's all I have to say though, last time I read about RATs was when DarkComet and BlackShades were around. So I don't quite know which are safe and which aren't, sorry.

Fun thing to do is learn to write one yourself!

Follow YouTube tutorials, learn to network, read a book on it. It's not that hard once you get the hold of how to use a language.

If you are going to use RATs for illegal use, you should reconsider it.

Good luck and Stay legal.

Hacking Is create a RAT Not download it

XeCheats - April 25, 2017, 9:49 pm

if you want a rat with least likelihood of being infected, purchase one of the rat's in the market place

that has a ton of vouches

I like Imminent Monitor!

Super stable and nice app.

So much you have to look into beyond that though, and in reality, its gonna cost you some coinage to start..

-RAT (usually paid is best, like Imminent Monitor, and I've heard good things about LL) Not even gonna mention free because its way too unstable.

-Crypter so you can actually have your file without it getting constantly removed by anti-virus, and its a necessity, (I use Flow Crypter, lots of good support there too for your $)

-Some sort of pentesting knowledge, or exploiting. (not a must but if you hope to go anywhere with this it is)

Unless you are doing this as a 1-time RAT to get back at someone, you will want to follow all the basic steps above before you even start.

You can trust most people on here and they wont infect you, tbh I'd just be looking out for other people like you right now, new users and such, they usually screw around and try to infect people.

Good luck
