Thread: New Habbo update - HABBO IN 3D

Owl of Minerva - April 25, 2017, 5:39 am

Alright so today Macklebee updated Habbo hotel, and now you can apparently rotate your room in 3D and all furni mottos + badge descriptions are removed.

Just spoke with staff its a feature for them only apparent, but its still in progress and might be released in near future for Habbo users as well.

Only 3 things I could find was the new 3D rotation thing, all furni mottos are removed and all furni descriptions are removed. The feature for the rotation isn't 100% done, Macklebee just showed us the update and said it was in production.

If anyone has that BOT that have spammed every room the last couple of days, please PM me.

Habbo is dead, and what you see there is just the "room" itself which is 3D, I doubt they will waste time on editing all of these furnitures to have more angles.

Every furniture has only 2 to 4 angles, don't forget it's pixel art. It'd be a pain in the ass and they'd waste so much time if they wanna do this to all furnitures. Some furni are more than 10 years old.

Damn I remember these 2007 times

I'm banned since 2009 til 2019 for "Hacking players and stealing furnitures" lmao

Habbo is dead af.

It will never be the same as back in the 2010-2012 days.

Habbo used to be fucking legendary. All the kids were on it.
Nowadays kids are roaming instagram and musicly and all that bullshit.

Exactly. I remember being on Habbo when I was 13 and shit, it was fucking golden.

I am not trying to sound like one of the really old guys, but kids now a days.

Giving a kid a smartphone is a huge mistake. Have a laptop or tablet they can use a few hours a day. Kids don't need to embarass themselves on shit like Instagram or Muscial.ly

I'm banned since 2009 til 2019 for "Hacking players and stealing furnitures" lmaoThere actually used to be a pixel art game, which was pretty much a combination of Habbo and Club Penguin, which had soooo many angles for their pixel art.

Must've been a nightmare to make, which also means - won't get to Habbo.

Habbo died when gambling died.

Owl of Minerva - April 25, 2017, 9:02 am

I've also played this since 2005, and I agree the game is nothing like what it used to be. But I have spent too many years on this game to let it all go now, so I still hang around.

That Vicki is a slut in the screenshot, she'll SC you anything you want.

On the other hand, this is just stupid & a waste of time. All mods have been fired so what's the point? Sulake will be brought to it's knees.

I still play Habbo but only to contact friends who don't other ways of contact.

test - May 5, 2017, 2:56 am

It baffles me that people still play this game. What do you even do on there?

Talk to people, seeing as that's the only thing you can do. But there is quite a lot of adults from the past who still play it like myself. Just kids who ruin it or the occasional douche fag.

Chill with old Habbo friends. Now gamble coins, sell/profit or lose 'em all.

Bans that were perm before (they would put dates like 2019,2025) are now perm and will not tell you an unban date.
