

Forum:Hack Forums

Thread: RAT for Mac OSX

Osmantic - April 26, 2017, 11:41 am

I'm looking to install a RAT (keylogger needed most, screenshot capture also would be helpful) on a remote computer. I can have the owner of the computer run a program, but I don't want them to know that it's a keylogger, and I do want it to be invisible while keylogging.

any suggestions for programs? I've looked plenty at stuff like Hellraiser, NetWire, and Aobo mac rats but they're all either too expensive or too obvious

tl:dr need a keylogger for mac osx that doesn't look like a keylogger and can be installed remotely if the computer owner runs a program

occupi - April 26, 2017, 11:44 am

They're too expensive? I mean, Macs run modified bsd under the hood, and these days they ask for permission to even look at the screen. I doubt you'll find anything for free/cheap that works the way you want. You get what you pay for, as the old adage goes.

Osmantic - April 26, 2017, 12:26 pm

(Apr 26, 2017 11:44 AM)occupi Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) They're too expensive? I mean, Macs run modified bsd under the hood, and these days they ask for permission to even look at the screen. I doubt you'll find anything for free/cheap that works the way you want. You get what you pay for, as the old adage goes.

I'm willing to pay, simply not the $200 programs I've seen floating around, and I haven't found anything that'll work to my specifications for less than that

DePeep - April 27, 2017, 10:07 pm

You could use a remote administration tool that is created in Java so it has support for multiple platforms. I recommend SilentBytes for your needs.

alepacheco - May 2, 2017, 11:22 am

(Apr 26, 2017 12:26 PM)Osmantic Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I'm willing to pay, simply not the $200 programs I've seen floating around, and I haven't found anything that'll work to my specifications for less than that

I can make you an .app file that logs keystrokes and sends them to a server or stores them for cheap, but it has to run as admin (the user will need to enter the password). If you still interested send me a PM. I can send you a sample file for free and you pay you want it customized.