Sounds like a bargain ?

I am curious though, with the new Vaping regulations coming into force in the Uk- will there be any complications with imports?

I recently ordered some juice, but if all can go well- I will definitely buy here when I run dry.

I don't believe OP does smaller quantities. Though buying one 180ml bottle comes with two 15ml bottles of various flavours. You could try those :)

Edit: Thought you were talking about Juice, not vape mod packs. I'd recommend the Smok Quantum as a good starting mod. Or go for the one I've been using- Vaporesso Tarot Pro @ 160w max.

Or I could just get him to refund me since I don't want to do that. I wouldn't have tried to get juice from him if his thread stated that in it. I have no interest in providing ID.

I hope not. I loved the juices he sent me, and would definitely be getting more.

He does have an unusual trust scan, which hopefully just means he went on a quick trip and forgot to announce; or something like that.

He did say he would be sending out tracking today, so maybe wait another 12 hours or so. He's broken his promise if he hasn't replied by then.

He told me he was going to send me tracking on Sunday last week, and then didn't respond to PM's after that.

Normally I wouldn't care if I got scammed. (In all of my years I've actually never been scammed before).

The only reason I have a problem right now is that I'm a student and I just lost my job because my dickhead boss fired me so he could hire his nephew, and I have absolutely no money to buy vape juice while I have to pay rent, for food, and other bills...
