Still have this awesomegame for sale! ?

Blue Eye Samurai - April 30, 2017, 6:18 am

I ran it with my gtx 1060, still 40 fps max haha. Such a intensive game. GI with selling OP it is a intensive game indeed but it is certainly worth it because the graphics are really something!

And thank you ?

The game is still in development. Optimization comes later.

im confused, on the page you linked the ship is only $45 or $60 with squadron 42, where is the extra $12.60 coming from?

SIM-297877 - May 1, 2017, 5:56 am

Well i will be the first to bid, $5 BTC. I already have a package with the LN but could use a second junk ship for raming into people

Thanks.

eh including your taxes is dumb cause not all of us have to pay the same amount.
makes sense to sell it without tax and take the $12 loss

Ah right, we don't have tax on online stuff unless it costs over $1000 so that's not something I see often.

It's an Europe thing.

??????? ????? - May 1, 2017, 7:01 pm

I have an account for this game with a few ships. I have to agree, even with a semi-decent PC, I still lag at low settings. The game itself though is stunning. There are a lot of details and cool things that you wouldn't expect (ex: over 50+ options for each piece of clothing). I would suggest investing in this game to help it develop and become what we are all hoping for :)

It really depends on specs, i played it for a hour or so on my test pc which has:

i5 4750

16GB ram

GTX970

m2 ssd

and it ran good on recommend(normal) settings, then played a hour on my main pc with everything high and damn that game is so beautiful.

I just don't have the time for it ?

B?ker - May 2, 2017, 7:32 am

I offer $45 pm me if you want to go further also can I change the name ?

This game is fucking amazing but it's so overwhelming to get into. You'll have to spend a SHIT TON of time just to learn the basic-basics.

True, it truly a amazing game and the graphics will blow you away.

Yeah you will be busy figuring out the basics for the first few hours, but that also makes it fun! Seen enough people crashing their ships haha. Was fun to watch?

Wish i actually had the time to play this, but unfortunately there are other priorities ?
