Thread: DNS for RATs

Wings of Redemption - April 28, 2017, 1:35 pm

I haven't used a RAT in a long time and now I want to get back into it. During the RAT setup, I was told to use duckdns for the DNS address. I am also using a VPN with the RAT

Should I still use duckdns or is there another service should I use?

Even though I don't like the guy, use Armada's one. Trusted service.
