Little did I know that when I began working with Rusty, he was a complete professional. We began by him messaging me promptly, asking for exactly what I wanted, and he began work on it within an hour.

He worked tirelessly for several hours, providing me the opportunity to video chat with him, and make edits to the design he was doing on the fly. I was unable to do the video chat since I had some personal things occurring, so he took the liberty of providing screenshots of each section as it was completed, and we then went over a couple of notes for each. In the end he produced a quality product, and spent more than enough time on it to insure customer satisfaction. He was going to charge 5-10$ but that was simply too little for the time and effort he put in, so I gave OP 15$.

Here's a link to a thread he made me, also what enabled me to be able to give a little extra was the very product being sold in it his thread.

Vouch for my man DcStudios, awesome logo and fast as hell.

?ictor? - May 10, 2017, 3:10 pm

Would want an animated sig, posting to remember.

The Piggy Bank - May 11, 2017, 4:56 am

I like your designs :) I am a designer myself but your style is quite different. Just like it tho. Good luck with the assignments.

This user provides amazing quality work within a short time frame as well. If you need a thread design, signature or logo, he is the man you should go to. I have personally dealt with him and I will be doing so again in the future.
