God of Thunder - April 29, 2017, 11:42 pm

Any guesses on who actually is Savitar?

Present - April 30, 2017, 3:40 am

Probably Ronnie, the back of his head closely resembles Ronnie's along with Killer Frost's excitement. I don't know really.

FukaF - April 30, 2017, 1:21 pm

Even if its future barry allen savitar still cant kill him if he does he dies. Everyone saying ronnie, but we all are locked in one place and other place is free.

He doesn't need to die, if savitar is barry(who i don't think it is) from another dimention, he can kill barry, since they are from different timelines.

Lexy- - April 30, 2017, 1:29 pm

The only reasonable thing would be Ronnie

Though, I hate the idea of Ronnie being Savitar since he already has been a meta.

J?son - April 30, 2017, 1:33 pm

people saying ronnie is savitar are retarded

? THEINsPIREDONE - April 30, 2017, 1:34 pm

Directors of Flash said that even though their top reveal until now was Harrison Wells as Reverse Flash, Savitar's reveal will be even better and unexpected than that.

And for some reason I don't feel Ronnie being Savitar would come as such a big shock to me. I would just be wondering "why" but nothing more than that.

Underworldproblem - April 30, 2017, 1:46 pm

I'm calling Joe as Savitar. Everyone owes me $5 each if I'm right. The wildest guess I can come up with.

Like I said, the wildest guess possible :)

What I'm trying to say is, I have no clue who Savitar is!

FukaF - April 30, 2017, 2:29 pm

If you watch video where ronnie died it makes almost no sense that he could be in speedforce... And fight with zoom barrys time remnant died and got sucked in where white light was shot to sky. And caitlyn is controlled by killer frost, when savitar revealed himself to killer frost, killer frost asked what should i do, what if killer frost had someone that died?

Then we would be talking about Earth 2 Killer Frost, since that's when she was firstly introduced.

Nope, when you see the small future team flash reunion, we are revealed that Harrison Wells aka H.R is alive, well and part of team flash.

So let's eliminate that.

It can't be Reverse Flash (ofc) because he got obliterated in Legends

Can't be Wally because he's disabled now

Eddyyyyy....mmmm I was thinking this guy then we saw the back of Savitar's head so I was like, yeah it's not him. Also, his death was very clear.

It coould be Barry, but I'm pretty sure this wouldn't shock me as this was the very first though that came up to my mind.

Julian, ummm... his Blonde, with reasonably long hair, so nahh.

No-one from Legends obviously

Come on it has to be Ronnie, it explains Killer Frost's jolt of happiness.

Underworldproblem - May 1, 2017, 5:48 am

Hold up. I have a bold idea, it's Caitlyns father :)

Mafty Navue Erin - May 1, 2017, 9:19 am

One of the funnier theories is that Savitar is Cisco;

"I feel like Savitar is Cisco. Either broken future Cisco or reverb somehow alive.
Also, Savitar looks a lot like Cisco in the comics."

"He uses the suit to vibe constantly - he can be anywhere in an instant like teleportation, so he's always faster"

It makes sense, Savitar appears to almost create doors when he runs, almost like he's Vibing instead of running.

Also keep in mind Cisco helped create the Flash tech in the suit, which means replicating it to allow the suit to Vibe would be easy.

That chick they just picked up explained why Savitar needs the suit.

He's so god damn fast that without the suit he can't even contain himself or function.

Mafty Navue Erin - May 3, 2017, 12:24 am

I read a theory earlier and there has been a lot of subtle hints of it being Future Barry, the one that went missing. The theory basically concluded that Future Barry lost his mind to the Speed Force which may have resulted in Eobard Thawne losing his family to Future Barry, one of the key points of evidence being that Thawne mentioned Future Barry took everything from him; Being later revealed at the end of Legends of Tomorrow that Thawne's "everything" was his family.

This theory is pretty sound when you think of it as a whole. I am pretty convinced by it.

On the other hand, season 3 was all about Savitar's identity.

Idk why but I see Zoom as more of a badass char than Savitar.

I think it because Savitar is more focused on the Flash team as a whole and doesn't bring civilians into the scenes. Almost like he still has morals.

I think he is trying to ruin Barry's life so he can exist in the future.

If Barry doesn't turn bad in the future, then Savitar doesn't exist???

I read it somewhere that Barry time traveled so many times that it messed up the timeline way more than it should have. So now future Barry wants the present Barry dead for the better good.

bxtelho - May 3, 2017, 6:10 am

What they did is so contradicting. They spent the first half of this season telling us that no matter what Earth, Universe or timeline they exist in, Barry and Iris will always find their way to each other and that their connection is unbreakable. Future Barry was an obvious guess but my friend and I vetoed it for that reason, so we were kind of disappointed but they'll definitely recover, always do. Now, he's responsible for her death?!

So is this suppose to be the Future Flash we saw in 2024, or is this Future Future Flash? I was definitely guessing Wally considering theres a universe where he hates Barry and forces a recreated lightning strike for himself.

Barry's greatest enemy has always been himself.

Quote:Barry Allen: You want to tell me why we're enemies?

I feel like the show can sometimes be very cheesy and is way too pg-13 imo.

Overall, it's a good show to watch, lot's of epic moments, and great storylines, but they just stretch the season for too long.

Regardless, Flash has been my favorite superhero during my childhood so that's why I watch the tv-show.

The fact that it's on a drama channel makes it suck. They are always so focused on real world problems like the LGBT community and such, and feminism and all that. That completely messes up the writing. I think flash though is the best written out of all the D.C. Shows. Also, they're not even allowed to show intense shots of blood in fights which does suck also. Like arrow would be so much better if they were allowed to show fights with blood and gore. Also supergirl writing is actual garbage. I try to like that show but it's just not good lol. I still watch it anyways though haha

I agree with your other point too, the season was stretched a bit for this story. There's almost too many connections that it's easy to get lost in them in 21 episodes. Regardless, I will watch this show until they choose tear it away from us.

Mafty Navue Erin - May 4, 2017, 9:26 am

The real question right now is which Future Barry this is. It is either the one that went missing, the one that went back in time to prevent his mom from dying, the one created from Flashpoint, or for some odd reason a new one completely.
