What do you wish to learn from Novus Ordo Seclorum?

A: How to become a god. Nothing more. I'm a nerd.

How can you contribute to Novus Ordo Seclorum?

A: Increasing the activity in the sub forum - hosting giveaways on behalf of the group - offering free services to members of the group.

How are you involved in the cryptocurrency scene?

A: I like to invest in alt coins here and there. Only when I have some spare change, though.

How much do you have invested in cryptos? (You may PM this answer if you please)

A: Between $2k-$2.5k - I'm not a hardcore investor.

What makes you stand out from the applicant above you?

A: My maturity and activity.

How do you currently monetize online? (You may PM this answer if you please)

A: CPA, services, selling ROBLOX items and gambling.

Please list any contributions you have contributed to HF (Preferably in Crypto or Monetizing Sections)

A: A few threads in the Crypto section but I'm on mobile so finding links is edgy.

Feel free to post a video application, they will give you an edge over other applicants and may be submitted over PM.

Dredd - May 2, 2017, 3:45 am

My dad is Kevin Bacon and I five stared this thread, worthy? I think so.

Anakin™ - May 2, 2017, 4:15 am

It's good to see this working out for you guys.

Best of luck.

Brewin - May 2, 2017, 8:44 am

What do you wish to learn from Novus Ordo Seclorum?

A: I wish to share techniques with others on how to monetize online.

How can you contribute to Novus Ordo Seclorum?

A: I am fairly new to CPA, but I am learning quite fast and I would share some knowledge with the members here. I also own a profitable web hosting business and could supply VPS / Web Hosting to the members.

How are you involved in the cryptocurrency scene?

A: I accept BTC on my web hosting website so that involves me pretty much every day. If I have some extra I like to bet a little bit on sportsbet.io.

How much do you have invested in cryptos? (You may PM this answer if you please)

A: Ahh, somewhere in the $450 range, the rest I have earned. My initial investment was to purchase an Xbox One on purse.io, I then invested the rest into my current business.

What makes you stand out from the applicant above you?

A: I am not sure, considering Dredd's dad is Kevin Bacon which is cool in itself. Other than that, I am a fast learner and quite knowledgeable in a lot of various subjects. Not quite a jack of all trades, but a jack of many.

How do you currently monetize online? (You may PM this answer if you please)

A: I am a newbie at CPA, I am currently using content locking to earn money. Averaging about 15 a day give or take a few dollars. I also own my web hosting business which is fairly profitable. About 200 per month in profit give or take 20 dollars.

Please list any contributions you have contributed to HF (Preferably in Crypto or Monetizing Sections)

A: I at one point had a fairly good way to monetize through instagram, but it has since been changed by instagram and you can no longer do it. I did release the ebook I created/sold before they changed it, but it must have gotten quickly saturated.

Thank you for reading!

?Enlightened - May 2, 2017, 10:04 am

What do you wish to learn from Novus Ordo Seclorum?

A: Nothing, I wish to teach rather than learn.

How can you contribute to Novus Ordo Seclorum?

A: My knowledge in crypto currency. As of yet I have over 1000 posts in the section alone. I have been trading for 4+ years and have been involved in cryptos since 2011.

How are you involved in the cryptocurrency scene?

A: Very, HF is minor compared to other crypto communities I am involved in. I have a very large influence in several ETH communities as well as growing influence in XMR communities. I am also active on some bitcoin and altcoin communities though not as prominent as ETH or XMR.

How much do you have invested in cryptos? (You may PM this answer if you please)

A: I am not going to answer this question though it can be assumed that I have a good stake in many currencies, based on my posts in the crypto section. If you really want to go digging you will find some figures, though I am not going to reveal my holdings so openly for my own safety.

What makes you stand out from the applicant above you?

A: He's a learner, I am a teacher

How do you currently monetize online? (You may PM this answer if you please)

A: Crypto Currency Trading/investing is a main factor, though I am invested across many ventures which all have varying income levels.

Please list any contributions you have contributed to HF (Preferably in Crypto or Monetizing Sections)

A: As I mentioned above, majority of my contribution is through knowledge (over 1k posts in crypto section alone)...though, here are some of my monetary contributions to the HF community:

How are you involved in the cryptocurrency scene?

A: I am involved in the crypto currency scene, I check the crypto sub forum everyday and try to post in it, answer questions (that I can) and help users on a daily basis. This being said, I am not in over my head with cryptos and don't have thousands invested in them.

How much do you have invested in cryptos? (You may PM this answer if you please)

SIM-3323508 - May 3, 2017, 6:56 am

Applicants looks pretty good so far, keep them coming as this recruitment will close in the next week or so.

Sapience - May 3, 2017, 11:03 am

What do you wish to learn from Novus Ordo Seclorum?

A: I'm still new to the trading scene, so I want to learn as much as possible about that to then actually get some investments started. After seeing so many people getting great profits from trading cryptocurrencies, I honestly just couldn't stand by and watch without getting involved myself.

Currently, I'm making some trades with only half a dollar at a time to familiarize myself with the system but I feel as though being part of a group like this could give me a huge advantage.

How can you contribute to Novus Ordo Seclorum?

A: I've personally written various Bustabit scripts in the past, so I could help people out with those. I can teach people everything from deciding what strategy to use all the way to calculating how safe a script is and simulating it.

How are you involved in the cryptocurrency scene?

A: My experience in the cryptocurrency scene in general is mainly in bitcoin gambling, where I have managed to maintain a steady profit (so far). Apart from that, I have of course done some business using cryptocurrencies on forums and so on. I'm probably not nearly as involved in the scene as most others on here are, but I believe that I'm getting there.

How much do you have invested in cryptos? (You may PM this answer if you please)

A: I currently have around $65 on my PoloniEx account (most of it in BTC for lending until I'm confident enough to trade). I have some smaller amounts on Bustabit and I have a separate wallet for safekeeping.

What makes you stand out from the applicant above you?

A: I'm not quite sure. I'm still very new to the forum, but I'm trying my best to be as active as possible and have a generally positive influence on the community.

How do you currently monetize online? (You may PM this answer if you please)

A: I don't run any services of my own as I'm still in the learning phase of many fields, but I regularly check out the Buyer's Bay and Rewards and Small Favors sections on this forum and some others to see if people need anything that I could help them with and that makes me a few dollars every now and then.

Please list any contributions you have contributed to HF (Preferably in Crypto or Monetizing Sections)

A: As I have noted before in this application, I'm still very new to the forum, so I don't have any real contributions yet. I have posted a method of hiding .txt files in images, songs,... using steganography, though, and I'm currently working on a big release for Dawn, which is the only group I am in on HackForums so far.

I don't expect you to take me in your group as I'm still new in most of the areas your group focuses on, but if you were to consider it I would be very grateful. Thanks a lot for taking the time to read my application, and I hope to see you around on the forum.

Queen of Hearts - May 3, 2017, 1:01 pm

Dean Winchester? - May 3, 2017, 1:33 pm

Holdstrom - May 3, 2017, 2:25 pm

What do you wish to learn from Novus Ordo Seclorum?

A: Methods to monetise my social accounts and how to attract more traffic to my sites and services.

How can you contribute to Novus Ordo Seclorum?

A: I can contribute my current methods for making money online and other ways to buy/sell BTC with minimum fees.

How are you involved in the cryptocurrency scene?

A: I buy and sell crypto currencies and I mainly accept BTC as my payment option.

How much do you have invested in cryptos? (You may PM this answer if you please)

A: $70 Atm. Definitely going to be A LOT more in the near future.

What makes you stand out from the applicant above you?

A: He didn't even make an application. And seems like he thinks trolling and copying everyone above him is funny.

How do you currently monetize online? (You may PM this answer if you please)

A: I will PM.

Please list any contributions you have contributed to HF (Preferably in Crypto or Monetizing Sections)

A: I have made a thread listing the best Runescape gold sellers (As this retains to one of the things I do online). I'm also in the process of buying L33t.

I plan on making more HQ threads in the future with methods/freebies so HF users can also share them.

NOVUS ORDO SECLORUM

What do you wish to learn from Novus Ordo Seclorum?

A: I wish to learn a wide variety of different things. The two primary forms of knowledge I would be interested in learning is cryptocurrency and marketing. As cryptocurrency becomes a more important and prevalent aspect of profits and investment across the globe, I would like to educate myself on the topic prior to investing a substantial amount of funds into different currencies. Additionally, I would like to learn a bit more about marketing as that is my major in college and it would likely benefit in my schooling process.

How can you contribute to Novus Ordo Seclorum?

A: I can contribute to the group through my information, topics of discussion, and my overall likeness. The information I can offer would assist in further educating newer individuals to cryptocurrency and marketing as I do have some degrees of experience in both. Similarly, I always have interesting topics of discussion to post about; generally, these topics are in regards to current events and real-time information.

How are you involved in the cryptocurrency scene?

A: I have spent approximately $20,000 in buying and selling Bitcoin; when I started, the coin was valued at around $365/coin. During these times of buying and selling I similarly invested a couple of thousand dollars into Ethereum and Monero (Before they blew up on the forum). I have since sold both with around 150% of the value that I paid for the total ETH and XMR purchased.

How much do you have invested in cryptos? (You may PM this answer if you please)

A: I don't invest anything in cryptos currently, I just recently dropped all of my funds for cash.

What makes you stand out from the applicant above you?

A: I stand out from all other applicants as I run multiple different forms of business while being a full-time college student. I am enrolled in a business university while I simultaneously operate my own assignment service. On the sidelines I tend to research about new cryptos and occasionally invest a couple of thousand dollars into those I deem as reliable or valuable enough.

How do you currently monetize online? (You may PM this answer if you please)

A: I don't monetize much online anymore; I have some experience with monetizing cryptos and Instagram accounts through CPA and advertisements/promotions. Overall, my major amount of income online comes from my aforementioned writing/mathematics service.

Please list any contributions you have contributed to HF (Preferably in Crypto or Monetizing Sections)

A: Recommended investments into ETH before it was massive, helped with user concerns regarding the ever-so-often BTC crashes
