Thread: Can't rate user/give rep?

Hummel - May 3, 2017, 8:32 am

Hi all,

Not sure why, but I've noticed that this week I've not been able to post any rep to any user that I want to give it to?

I've tried to rep 2 users to thank them, but it's not added it..

Any idea what the issue could be? I don't want to contact staff immediately over this as it might be something quite simple and I'm just being thick :D

Thanks in advance for any help!

Weird. Try using Gyazo and make a gif of when you are attempting to rep that person you wanted to rep. Might help out.

FamousHater is one and NakedTurtle is the other, I'll try to rep another, just don't want to give a random rep for no reason :D

Yeah read my post again. A .gif of you attempting to rep etc. FamousHater would be helpful to figure out your problem.

Never heard of that happening before. Do you get an error message? Is the page lagging out when you click "Add Rating"?

I'd make sure it's not a connection issue on your end before contacting staff.

Nope, no lag or error, tried on my phone and on pc, the process does everything it normally does and the page refreshes and no rep is given,

I'll try to record/get an image of the problem

Also, press F12 and check in the console if something happens.

Here's a GIF on GYAZO showing me attempting to post the rep, it says it posted successfully, but nothing appears?

Very weird...

Edit: It says "Update rating", I'm guessing since I've repped NakedTurtle in the past, maybe this is just updating a previous rep? If so, *Facepalm and ignore this thread was ever posted... :D

Shows up just fine for me

You just edited the rep you had already given before, so it's further in the list.

/thread

That just updates your previous rep. It doesn't bump your rep to the top.

Too bad you can't junk your thread anymore, we will all remember this genius act from you :D

Damn! My foolishness will forever remain on here now D:

At least that solves that little confusion! Was worried I cant rep people to thank them in my usual manner! :D
