<https://hackforums.net/member.php?action=profile&uid=44439> - the user

Someone grave digged a thread and I for reason was snooping around and I found that this person a regular user gave this leet a +1

Back in 2009 could any user give someone else a +1?

rsx - May 3, 2017, 6:50 pm

That was way back in 2009, he could have gotten his upgrade revoked or something.

TheChosenOunce - May 3, 2017, 6:51 pm

Most likely they were a L33t, gave a rep, something happened and they lost their l33t, Rep stayed.

cue conspiracy music

Probably a 2009 feature but idk to be honest lol

for an upgrade to get revoked he would've had to have charged back or something and wouldn't he just get closed then?

He would've been closed I'm more than certain.

I think it's a thing to request to be un upgraded?

Condoms - May 3, 2017, 6:53 pm

Could always message him, and ask him. See what he has to say for himself.

rsx - May 3, 2017, 6:54 pm

He's given a few reps, so it looks like he used to be leet.

Might have been when upgrades were a yearly subscription. I wasn't around when that was how it worked but I do know there was a point where upgrades weren't lifetime.

Hes got special powers bro

M?xim - May 3, 2017, 11:30 pm

It is not rocket science to figure this out, OP.

He was curious and was trying to figure it out.

Don't hate on him

test - May 4, 2017, 12:23 am

Could regular users ever give +1? Only other thing I can think of. Most likely had his upgrade removed though.

Tidas - May 4, 2017, 12:41 am

Because he used to be leet and is no longer leet. Why he's no longer leet is none of your business.

Why does anything matter

Someone should confirm my post on the first page, though. Now I'm curious lol

Eagle 95 - May 4, 2017, 12:47 am

He was l33t and ub3r, hence +1's and +3's. He got his upgrades removed obviously.
