Romario - May 6, 2017, 3:24 pm

Hello guys, i'm not active on HF and the last time i posted was 4 months ago, because I was trying to improve my life, tried many things and didn't worked, until I found Forex, but when i found Forex it changed my life.

I have turned some good money from $1,000 to $7,000 Balance in 3-4 weeks.

Below you have some of my profits on my Live account.

Some were caught like short terms and some long terms, but I prefer long signals because I have more balance now and chances for profit are more bigger now.

But remember Forex can kill your money, but if you know what you do you can easily turn your bank account into a phone number ?

As a slave myself, where can I learn this stuff? I am interested in trying this out however before I jump the wagon,

I noticed that there are many different platforms for Forex and I heard there are a lot of fakes ones out there aimed to just rip you from your money.

Have you been doing this long term? I am still interested, thinking of PMing you.

Is trading forex hard to learn? Like Could I make money within the first month of trying. It all seems so confusing to me.

nah it takes 1-2 months to learn from basics to the end but then when you go with live money that's real struggle, so you need to trade on a demo account after you finish babypips and once you found yourself successful on a demo then move into a live account

After learning the basics It's really about pattern recognition along with (broadly stated) what x does to y and how to spot it. It's sorta just something you get through practice/experience.

If you ate, slept, and breathed forex for a month straight you'd probably be able to pull some profits but I'm guessing you have a life.

You should check this bro!!1) You uploaded this picture 12 days ago on Imgur, price of EUR/USD 12 days ago was around 1.115 and your image shows 1.064550 and if we check the price 1.064550 this means that your price it was on April of 2017 and then began growing and never coming lower than 1.113 so that doesn't make sense since you posted thread 2-3 weeks ago.

2) I don't trade Binary Options, only Forex & Crypto

1. There is a difference between binary and forex. In binary there are high and low tides as compared to forex. Price usually go with the market flow in it. Apart it was the sale and buy which bought me $$ so its good for me.

2. Forex is good binary is Gem for me anyways it is your choice.
