

Forum:Hack Forums

Thread: pool.xmrminer.net

©Ratatouille™ - May 8, 2017, 9:28 pm

Hi everyone,

I'm doing that community alert to inform you guys that the user <https://hackforums.net/member.php?action=profile&uid=2111793> is not professional at all.

I bought some months ago a XMR miner build for $20 and he said that I could get 75% discount if I'm mining in his pool, so I accepted and I got the build and I started to mine in his pool.

Here is the thread: <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5430872>

Here is the website: <http://pool.xmrminer.net/>

I'm mining for him since a long time now (around 2 months) and his pool never got any block. That's actually pretty strange and I don't think it's even possible to have no block, so he never paid me at all since I started to mine for him on his pool.

I'm just doing this to alert you guys that this guy have strange activities.

Ninetales. - May 8, 2017, 9:31 pm

You waited 2 months to say something!?!?

©Ratatouille™ - May 8, 2017, 9:53 pm

(May 8, 2017 09:31 PM)Ninetales. Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) You waited 2 months to say something!?!? i already report on the sale thread the coder say is normal

Ninetales. - May 8, 2017, 9:57 pm

(May 8, 2017 09:53 PM)©Ratatouille™ Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) i already report on the sale thread the coder say is normal

Well... it only has 1.5KH/s... I have a better hashrate than that and I use free VPSes.. ?

XMR Miner - May 20, 2017, 9:37 am

(May 8, 2017 09:57 PM)Ninetales. Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Well... it only has 1.5KH/s... I have a better hashrate than that and I use free VPSes.. ?

This, the pool has a very low hash rate, I am even losing money keeping it up. Sad that some people dont understand how cryptocurrency mining and pools work.

I answered to this member on my thread:

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5430872&pid=54895556#pid54895556>

I am closing the pool next June 25th