All clients are just the same really, nothing new.

Spoofname and SilentXray qualify as original I believe.

I really miss the community we had. Always people to talk to/play games with. Was pretty great :P

Most of them are the same, people just care about fly and phase bypasses etc.

Considering Ghost clients are just normal clients stripped down, what do you think?

Too bad we can't go back to pre-2014 when all the skids didn't have access to the more meme-tier and original mods. Fun times.

widd - May 18, 2017, 11:59 am the answer is no

even 2014 is pushing it - anyone with a brain had already optimized existing hacks and new features were scarce

besides most of the innovators moved on a long time ago - the exodus of the Pulse group basically meant the death of this section

When no cheat systems started coming about 2012/13, original features were limited to like, 2 a year - at best. Other "original" features were re-hashes of another idea.
